

Castro Clearing Way for Seizure Of Other U.S. Firms

Electric Company May be Next on Cuban Chief's List

BY ROBERT BERRELLEZ
Havana —(A)— Fidel Castro's regime early today replaced its communications minister in a move apparently signaling further harassment and possibly seizure of the Cuban Electric company, the largest remaining American investment in Cuba.

With a marathon cabinet session still in progress after 13 hours, President Osvaldo Dorticos announced the resignation of Communications Minister Enrique Oltuski and his replacement by Raul Curbelo Morales, a virtual unknown.

Oltuski at a news conference two weeks ago accused the electric company—which comes under his ministry's jurisdiction — of sabotaging the revolution because it refused to carry out an expansion program after the Castro government cut its rates a third. Informed sources said the regime felt Oltuski had not been aggressive enough in his application of revolutionary policies.

Intensify Campaign
Valued at $300 million, the electric company is half owned by the American and Foreign Power company.

Oltuski's replacement also could be a preliminary to formal confiscation of the $125 million Cuban Telephone company, in which the U.S. International Telephone and Telegraph company owns 65 per cent of the stock. Castro representatives have been in complete control of the telephone company since March 4, 1959, and the last U.S. executive was ousted last February.

Retaliating for the pending U. S. congressional bill to trim Cuba's quota of sugar sales to the United States, the Castro regime stepped up its campaign against American investments by taking over all operations yesterday of the American-owned Texaco Oil company, including its $26 million refinery at Santiago. The oil company indicated its claims for the properties seized may total $50 million.

Refused to Obey
Texaco, along with Esso Standard of New Jersey, the other American refinery in Cuba, and the British-Dutch Shell company, had refused to process Russian crude oil bought from the Soviet Union with Cuban sugar.

GOP House Members Balk At Resuming Session Aug. 8

Johnson Moves to Force Showdown; Gets Support In Senate From Dirksen

Washington —(A)— House Republicans declared war today against the idea of bringing congress back into session after the political conventions. Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas promptly moved for a showdown on the issue.

Meeting in caucus, the house GOP members adopted a resolution of opposition to what their spokesman, Rep. Charles B. Hoeven of Iowa, called the "politically-inspired move" by Johnson and House Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Texas) for a post-conventions session of congress.

Johnson came back with a free - swinging speech in the senate of reply to all his critics. He then asked the senate to approve a formal resolution for adjournment of congress this Saturday with resumption of legislative work on Tuesday, Aug. 8.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen (R-Ill) announced his support for Johnson's resolution.

The senate agreed to vote after three hours of debate.

In pressing his resolution, Johnson argued that those who think congress can complete its work before the opening of the Democratic convention in Los Angeles July 11 are day dreaming.

He told the senate, the members of congress did not set up the Democratic national convention or fix the dates for its meeting.

He said Paul Butler, Democratic national chairman, set

Higher Air Fares In Effect Tonight

Washington —(A)— Most U. S. air fares will increase by about 5 per cent at midnight tonight.

The civil aeronautics board said that all of the domestic trunk airlines, and all except three of the local service operators, have filed for the higher fares. The CAB announced June 17 that it would approve them.

Dragging Operations are Continuing today in the rain-swollen Wisconsin river near Mauston where six boys, ranging in age from 12 to 14, drowned in swift currents while attempting to reach an island opposite a camp for underprivileged children. Two bodies have been found.

Burdick Has Slim Lead in Senate Race

Fargo, N. D. —(A)— Democratic Rep. Quentin Burdick hung on to his tiny lead to Burdick Davis day with only a handful of precincts remaining to be counted in the special North Dakota senatorial election.

With only 10 precincts still out, virtually all of them in sparsely - populated western areas, Burdick held a 762 vote lead over Republican Gov. John Davis.

With 2,304 of 2,314 precincts counted the unofficial total showed: Burdick — 104,161; Davis — 103,399.

Bodies of 2 Boys Taken From River

Search Continues for Others In Juneau County Tragedy

Mauston —(A)— The bodies of two of the six boys who drowned at a youth camp on the Wisconsin river were recovered today. The search for the other four is continuing in the rain-swollen stream.

The Juneau county sheriff's office said one of the bodies found in the dragging operation was that of Thor Jewický of Minneapolis. The other has not yet been identified.

The six boys drowned Tuesday night during what had been planned as a routine river crossing. As a result of the tragedy, authorities closed the camp for the season. Most of the nearly 100 children at the camp are from Chicago's poorer districts and from families displaced from eastern Europe.

During the exercise youths, ranging in age between 12 and 14, panicked when one of them stepped into unexpectedly deep water. In the confusion six disappeared and presumably drowned. No trace of them was found despite a concentrated search of the river and surrounding area Wednesday.

Missing are George Prychau, Olen Szoremata, Roman Kuczman, Orest Nikorowicz and Orest Kurylak, all of Chicago. The camp was operated by a national Ukrainian group that has headquarters in Chicago. The Chicago Tribune reported today.

Kennedy Urges Medical Care

Wants Program for Older Folk Under Social Security

BY JOE HALL

Washington —(A)— Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) today urged the senate finance committee to write a medical care plan for older persons into the social security system.

"I know of no domestic issue of greater concern to the American people than the one you now are considering," the Democratic presidential hopeful told the committee.

"I am convinced that only by use of the social security system can we have true health insurance," he added.

The committee has before it a house-passed social security bill which contains a limited plan of medical benefits for the aged.

U. S. Considering Harder Policy In Dealing With Cuban Regime of action against the Fidel Castro regime.

They have become convinced that the United States has passed the point of no return in trying to settle disputes with the Cuban premier through normal means. Diplomacy and words, soft or harsh, have bounced off him with no effect.

What precise action the United States will take depends on the time and circumstance.

One proposal is to cut down on the U.S. sugar subsidies which Castro officials say enslave Cuba, and use the money to pay claims of Americans whose property has been seized by the Castro regime.

House action was scheduled today on an administration-backed bill which would give the president power to slash the Cuban sugar quota.

Other economic measures also were under study, such as revoking trade arrangements which give a preference to Cuba. A drawback here is that cancellation could hurt U. S. business interests.

Over the longer range, U.S. authorities looked for possible action by the 21-nation Organization of American States to curb Castro. OAS has power to take severe steps, such as economic sanctions and diplomatic isolation.

Doubtful of Support
But OAS action would require a larger degree of support than U.S. authorities figure would be forthcoming from the other Latin American countries at this time.

One important factor is the length to which the communists are willing to go to uphold their Caribbean beachhead.

U. S. experts figure Castro could fall of his own weight without outside help. If Moscow goes all out to support Castro, including signing a military pact, these experts believe Latin American opinion will more easily crystallize to the point of supporting joint OAS action.

Theft Charges Against 3 Men Ordered Dropped

Milwaukee —(A)— Three men accused of taking $10,000 in old bills from a bank's waste basket were freed Wednesday after theft charges against them were dismissed.

Willie E. Starks, 20; William E. LeFlore, Jr., 20, and Walter L. Cloyd, 23, all of Milwaukee, appeared in district court.

Hugh O'Connell, an assistant district attorney, asked that the charges against the men be dismissed. Police recovered $3,060 of the money, he said, and it was returned to the bank. LeFlore and Starks said they would repay $480 they admitted spending but $1,100 remained unaccounted for.

Police said Starks, an employee of a rubbish and waste-paper firm, found the money in an envelope that had been discarded by a clerk at the Marshall & Isley bank April 29. The old bills were part of a shipment being returned in exchange for new money.

LeFlore saw Starks find the money, police said, and Cloyd joined the two men later when the money was counted.

Ike Vetoes Federal Pay Increase Bill

Congress Prepares for Attempt to Override Him

Washington —(A)— President Eisenhower today vetoed a bill to raise the pay of 11 million federal employees by 7 1/2 per cent. He called the measure "indefensible" by any light.

However, Eisenhower left the door open for a smaller hike—what he termed "a modest increase reasonably commensurate with the percentage rise" in the cost of living since the last general pay increase.

Democratic leaders in congress are planning, however, an attempt to override the president's veto of the 7 1/2 per cent measure.

The house is expected to vote on an overriding attempt tomorrow.

"Long Step Backward"
In his veto message, Eisenhower said:

"This hastily-drawn bill violates every concept of fairness, every rule of reason and logic. Were this measure to become law, the already conspicuous unfairness and discrimination in our antiquated federal pay system would be greatly intensified.

"Instead of making progress—by improving the federal pay structure—we would actually be taking a long step backward."

President to Go To Rhode Island

Washington —(A)— President Eisenhower was reported to day to be planning to leave next week for at least a month's vacation at Newport, R.I.

Present plans, it was understood, call for Eisenhower to go to the New England resort area about July 7.

Cool Welcome

Khrushchev Receives Few Austrian Cheers

BY RICHARD O'REGAN

Vienna —(A)— Nikita Khrushchev arrived in neutral Austria for a 9-day state visit to a cold reception. Except for a small contingent of communists the response was apathetic.

About 6,000 persons were at the Soviet war memorial as Khrushchev's motorcade swept into the center of the city from the airport. Most of the crowd just stood and stared. A small knot of about 200 Austrian communists sent up a thin cheer but Khrushchev may not have heard or seen them. They were lined up on the far side of the street as he sped by in a closed car.

Some Ignore Him
Some customers at sidewalk tables of nearby coffee houses didn't bother to look up from their newspapers as the Russian motorcade pulled up in front of the Imperial hotel, where Khrushchev is staying. In general the average citizen appeared bored.

After changing, Khrushchev left the hotel and went to the Ballhausplatz to pay official calls on Austrian President Adolf Schaerf and Chancellor Julius Raab. Then he returned to the hotel to change again for a late lunch, given by Schaerf.

At the Ballhausplatz a crowd of several hundred curious Viennese waited—in silence.

Khrushchev's Austrian visit is expected to be all smiles and talk of peaceful coexistence.

The Soviet premier and his party of more than 80 persons were met at Vienna's Schwechat airport by Schaerf, Raab and other top Austrians.

Congo Nation Get Freedom

Belgian Monarch Warns Republic About Problems

BY LYNN HEINZERLING

Leopoldville, Republic of Congo —(A)— King Baudouin handed over the rich Belgian Congo to 13 million Africans today with a warning to the new nation to beware of greedy foreign powers.

An artillery battery boomed slowly as the young king proclaimed the independent Republic of Congo, ending 80 years of Belgian rule over the vast colony in central Africa which was his great-granduncle's personal domain.

"Your task is immense and you are the first to realize it," Baudouin told the new leaders of the nation one-third the size of the United States.

Major Dangers

"The principal dangers which threaten you are: The inexperience in self-government of the populations, the tribal rivalries which have done so much evil in the past and which must not, at any cost, resume, and the attraction which foreign powers ready to take advantage of the least weakness may exercise on certain regions."

As the king spoke inside the still unfinished palace of the nation (Palais de la Nation), thousands on thousands of Congolese, many of them dressed in colorful native garb, massed outside to celebrate their new independence. The burst of firecrackers competed with the saluting guns.

The jubilant crowds broke through police lines to swarm around the king's car as he arrived at Notre Dame cathedral for a te dem service preceding the proclamation of independence.

House Approves Defense Fund Bill

Washington —(A)— The house passed and sent to the senate today the compromise $39,996,608,000 defense appropriation bill. The amount is $661,608,000 more than President Eisenhower requested.

The money is for use during the fiscal year starting July 1. It includes financing for most of the president's major defense programs plus some additional projects he didn't request.

Truman Won't Go To Party Convention

Former President Schedules Conference to Tell Reasons For Withdrawing as Delegate

Washington —P— A canny old politician, Harry S. Truman, dominated the political news today simply by announcing that he wouldn't attend the Democratic national convention in Los Angeles.

Truman's announcement that he was withdrawing from Missouri's convention delegation came as a complete surprise to Washington, and speculation sprouted under forced draft as to what his action meant.

The former president assured himself of further headlines by refusing to say why he did it. He said he'd tell all at a Saturday news conference in Independence, Mo.

Truman has been an ardent backer of Sen. Stuart Symington, his fellow Missourian, for the Democratic presidential nomination. Symington said he is still running hard.

Suspects Deal
Among the speculative theories: Truman has decided Symington can't make the grade and doesn't want to pre-empt a hopeless cause in Los Angeles a week and a half from now.

Another: that Truman suspects a "deal" is in the making between Symington and Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.), the front runner for the nomination. As this theory goes, Symington would become secretary of defense in a Kennedy cabinet, while his delegate strength would rally mainly to Kennedy at the convention and perhaps put Kennedy over the top.

Backers of Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Texas) hoped Truman would switch his support to Johnson.

Other political developments:

Recess Congress
Congressional leaders decided they would recess congress at the end of this week, and come back again after the conventions to clean up the work of congress. This releases Johnson, Kennedy and Symington to go early to Los Angeles and get in what licks they may before the convention starts.

At the governors' conference in Glacier National park, Mont., the news again centered around Republican Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York. While he didn't say he would go out and stump for Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the all-but-nominated GOP presidential candidate, Rockefeller did say he's a Republican and would not bolt the party.

Adlai Stevenson was asked in New York Wednesday night about talk of a Stevenson-Kennedy ticket. He said he was flattered by such talk and added "I have read my political epitaph in the newspapers so many times, it is comforting to know you are still alive."

Japan to Take Control of Air Defense Units

U. S. Moves Toward Ending Supervision Of Warning System

Tokyo —P— A major step toward placing part of the West's Pacific Air Warning system under Japanese control was announced today by the U.S. Air Force.

Japan's three air defense control centers, covering the entire nation, will be transferred from U.S. to Japanese supervision Friday, the U.S. 5th air force said.

Officials said the move still leaves the top echelon of the warning setup in Japan—the combat operations center outside Tokyo—under U.S. control. Some two dozen radar stations, which relay warning of intruding planes to the control centers, earlier were turned over to the Japanese air force.

Before Turnover
The latest turnover was planned long before leftwing turmoil in Tokyo over the U.S.-Japan treaty raised doubt as to Japan's reliability as a U.S. Military partner, officials indicated.

The three centers to be placed under Japanese operational responsibility are located at Itazuke, in Kyushu, Johnson air base, outside Tokyo, and Misawa, northern Honshu. They collect radar reports from a 2,000-mile arc of sky stretching to Soviet Russia, Communist China and North Korea as well as South Korea.

The centers will continue to be manned jointly by American and Japanese airmen, each group reporting to its own superiors. But "Japanese will sit in the saddle for operational purposes," said a U.S. spokesman.

Observers believe the United States eventually hopes to transfer the combat operations center for air defense, at Fuchu, near Tokyo, to the Japanese Air Defense command, but no time has been set.

Unions Honor Labor Leader

AFL-CIO Officials, Mine Workers Fete Mitchell at Dinner

Washington —P— Organized labor, still staunchly oriented to the Democratic party, has given high praise to a top Republican — Sec. of Labor James P. Mitchell.

Union chiefs feted Mitchell at a testimonial dinner last night and hailed him as "a good guy." But they made clear their support for the administration stopped there.

The dinner, attended by nearly 1,000 guests, attested to a personal endorsement for Mitchell's role in behalf of the cause of labor. But the union leaders said Mitchell had been operating "with both hands tied behind his back" in Washington.

'Rise Above Politics'
The dinner was sponsored by leaders of the AFL-CIO and the independent United Mine Workers union. William F. Schnitzler, AFL-CIO secretary-treasurer, said the tribute to Mitchell demonstrated that unions "can rise above politics."

Mitchell has been mentioned as a possible GOP vice presidential candidate.

President Eisenhower spoke briefly at the start of the unusual affair. He paid tribute to Mitchell for his cabinet service and thanked organized labor for its support of his foreign policy and his program to expand world trade.

Veterans' Home Aid Bill Sent to President

Washington —P— The senate Wednesday night sent to President Eisenhower a bill increasing the amount of federal aid to state veterans' homes.

The federal government now pays $700 annually for each veteran to such homes; the bill would change it to $2.50 per diem basis. The Veterans administration said this increase could mean a maximum increase of 30 per cent.

A Series of Underground explosions rumbled beneath Public square in the heart of downtown Cleveland, Ohio, just after the peak rush hour Wednesday evening. Troubles were caused by a short circuit on 11,000-volt lines of the Cleveland Electric Illuminating company. Firemen and others scurry for cover as thick smoke pours out of a manhole.

Army Ordered to Test Nike Zeus on Swift Flying Ballistic Missiles

Air Force Atlas ICBMs to Get Use Instead of Jupiter Intermediate Rocket

Washington —P— The defense department has ordered the army to test its Nike Zeus weapons against swift flying intercontinental ballistic missiles instead of the slower intermediate range rockets the army had chosen as targets.

When the Zeus development has progressed to the point of trying it out against flying targets—in another year or two—air force Atlas ICBMs will be used instead of the army-designed Jupiter ICBM rockets.

The ICBM type weapon is the one which Russia probably would use against the United States, unless submarine-launched IRBM rockets also became available to the Soviets.

Revised Plan
The abandoned target test plan which would have used Jupiters has cost about $71 million. Of this, about $6 million was spent for Jupiter missiles, the remainder for construction of Jupiter launching facilities.

Here is the revised target trial plan announced Wednesday night:
Atlases to be used as targets will be fired from the big west coast missile center at Vandenberg air force base, Calif.

Automatic Firing
As the target missile travels past the area of Kwajalein island in the Marshall island group—about 4,800 miles from Vandenberg—a Zeus will be shot aloft in an attempt to destroy it.

The army claims Zeus radars will detect incoming missiles while they are still several hundred miles away. Computers in the Zeus system, acting on radar information, automatically will launch and guide the Zeus to the interception point.

The army is buying 18 Atlas missiles from the air force. They will be launched under army direction at different times from the Vandenberg base. The launchings will be handled by air force crews or technicians of the Convair division of General Dynamics corporation, which makes and tests the Atlas.

Congressman Proposes Sending MacArthur On Mission to Japan
Washington —P— Rep. Frank Kowalski (D-Conn.) proposed today that Gen. Douglas MacArthur be sent to Japan on a friendship mission.

He said he was convinced that MacArthur, "by talking to the rival political groups and by meeting again with the Japanese people, could do much to restore the friendly feelings of the people of Japan toward our country."

Blasts Shake Central Area In Cleveland

Cleveland —P— Five underground explosions beneath public square shook downtown Cleveland last night. The blasts cut off electric power to nearby buildings, flipped manhole covers into the air and smashed several plate glass windows.

The only injury was to a man who suffered minor cuts from flying glass.

The explosions were triggered when gas and air—heated by smoldering insulation covering high-power underground cables—came in direct contact with cool air from the street.

Thick black smoke poured from a dozen manholes and flames spouted 15 feet high from one of them.

Square Cleared
Vehicles and pedestrians, endangered by the flying manhole covers, were cleared from public square. Buses were rerouted for nearly three hours. Sixty extra policemen were assigned to the busy hub of downtown Cleveland.

Police officials said it was fortunate the blasts came an hour after the height of the going-home rush.

Six law students at the Cleveland-Marshall law school were trapped for 45 minutes in an elevator. It took 20 firemen and several crowbars to free the students, who had been taking a law examination.

Downtown Euclid avenue, the city's "great white way," was both black and white. It was dark in most of the motion picture theaters because projectors on direct current wouldn't work.

Restaurants did business as usual—or in some cases, even better than usual. Many persons came downtown to see what all the excitement was about.

Noted Hostess Is Zealous Johnson Fan

Philadelphia —P— Mrs. Perle Mesta, prominent Washington hostess, says she is going to the Democratic National convention in Los Angeles to root for Sen. Lyndon Johnson (D-Texas) whom she expects to win the Democratic presidential nomination.

She added yesterday, however, that she would go along with Vice President Richard M. Nixon "if he makes it as president."

Here to promote her book, "Perle," Mrs. Mesta said, "Mr. Nixon is a fine person. He has a good grasp of the international scene. But Lyndon Johnson is still my candidate and I want to see him make it."

Mrs. Mesta said she also would attend the Republican convention in Chicago.

Hissing, Booming Bring Halt to Commencement

Parents, Students, Principal Disagree On Reasons for General Uproar

New York —P— Parents, today, when he would deliver students, and the principal of a lecture on "manners."

Stuyvesant High school disagree as to what caused the hissing, jeering and general uproar which broke up the school's graduation ceremonies.

The 101st commencement exercises for 700 seniors ended abruptly Wednesday by Principal Dr. Leonard J. Fliedner. At the height of a demonstration he dismissed the graduates and about 1,400 parents and relatives assembled in the Sheridan theater.

Dr. Fliedner directed graduates to pick up their sheepskins at the high school than the Legion award.

Award Given
Fliedner contended the heeling was touched off by presentation of an American Legion award won by Raymond Frey. Both the principal and a number of students agreed that the hissing had nothing to do with Frey, 17, whom everyone termed a popular boy.

Dr. Martin Goldwasser, president of the Parents Association of Stuyvesant high school, said there was some slipping when the Legion award was made. But he blamed J. Fliedner. "We will not proceed to the granting of diplomas—which some of us deserve."

Some parents in the audience also blamed this remark for the student outburst.

Teamster-City Pact Ready for Council

Dues Deduction Was Last Hurdle At Final Bargaining Session

A stalemate on dues deduction almost upset the apple cart at another labor bargaining session in city hall Wednesday night.

It was the last item discussed, and was introduced by Robert Schlieve, Teamster business agent.

Ald. Kenneth Priebe, chairman of the street and sanitation committee, who has said he would be forever against dues check-off, skipped the item completely. When all other points of disagreement in the proposed pact for about 80 street and sanitation men had been

Silence Reigned
Priebe reiterated his stand against it, as did Ald. R. P. Groh. The rest of the committee sat mute.

After other committee men made no comment, Priebe said, "Well, nobody is saying anything, I guess the committee doesn't want to discuss it."

Finally, Ald. Austin Tucker and Thomas Schneider said they were in favor of it. Ald.

"Just a minute Mr. Chairman," Schlieve interjected, ing burden he saw nothing against it.

Mayor For Check-off
Schlieve queried Mayor Clarence Mitchell, who sat in on most of the meeting, on workers, except watchmen and janitors. The committee had proposed the premium only for day workers called in for extra work at night, but this was changed on a 3 to 2 vote.

Trial Period
Deletion of the words "except those in supervisory positions" from the paragraph recognizing the union as the representative of the workers.

Provision of a 30 day trial period to learn a new job instead of the 15 the committee wanted.

No permission required from department head or director of public works to be absent from work in case of illness.

A point not contended, but to which Schlieve agreed, is that if a man is absent from work for three days without approval, for reasons other than illness or injury, his job is declared vacant.

Offer Defense
Two other aldermen, not members of the committee, who say they are being blamed for the delay in approving the street and sanitation pact, were present to defend themselves.

Ald. Homer Malmstrom made a statement at the start of the bargaining session, saying he represents the continual reference to the fact that he made the motion to send the original back to committee for study and review in the light of objections and suggestions from the taxpayers association.

"These stories in the Post-Crescent are causing me a lot of trouble. People stop me on at the end of the meeting "I resent the inference that the delay in approval is the fault of the previous committee. The quotes carried in the Post-Crescent make it look as if our committee started the delay."

(Pointer was chairman of the committee last year that negotiated the original proposed agreement.)

The new proposal will be submitted to the council Wednesday.

Union Gains
Concessions to the union in addition to dues check-off were:

Shift differential pay of 15 cents an hour to all night

Aldermen did not allow that a man who was put on a higher rated job to get the higher pay scale for all day if on the higher job for five hours. The higher scale will be paid only for actual hours worked.

Aldermen also insisted on keeping the work insubordination in the paragraph listing reasons for immediate discharge.

Aldermen compromised on sick leave, allowing three-fourths of a day each month with an accumulation of 90. Schlieve had asked one day a month. The committee recommended a half day.

ing burden he saw nothing against it.

Mayor For Check-off
Schlieve queried Mayor Clarence Mitchell, who sat in on most of the meeting, on workers, except watchmen and janitors. The committee had proposed the premium only for day workers called in for extra work at night, but this was changed on a 3 to 2 vote.

Trial Period
Deletion of the words "except those in supervisory positions" from the paragraph recognizing the union as the representative of the workers.

Provision of a 30 day trial period to learn a new job instead of the 15 the committee wanted.

No permission required from department head or director of public works to be absent from work in case of illness.

A point not contended, but to which Schlieve agreed, is that if a man is absent from work for three days without approval, for reasons other than illness or injury, his job is declared vacant.

Offer Defense
Two other aldermen, not members of the committee, who say they are being blamed for the delay in approving the street and sanitation pact, were present to defend themselves.

Ald. Homer Malmstrom made a statement at the start of the bargaining session, saying he represents the continual reference to the fact that he made the motion to send the original back to committee for study and review in the light of objections and suggestions from the taxpayers association.

"These stories in the Post-Crescent are causing me a lot of trouble. People stop me on at the end of the meeting "I resent the inference that the delay in approval is the fault of the previous committee. The quotes carried in the Post-Crescent make it look as if our committee started the delay."

The new proposal will be submitted to the council Wednesday.

Crowell-Collier Buying Control of Publishing Firm

New York — The Crowell-Collier publishing company said today it is buying control of the Macmillan company, fourth largest publishing concern in the nation.

Crowell-Collier, publisher of encyclopedias and the Harvard Classics, has previously owned about 42 per cent of Macmillan stock. Crowell-Collier now is buying the 33,000 shares needed to gain 51 per cent control.

A Crowell-Collier spokesman said the controlling interest would represent a total investment of about $7 million.

go office ordered the camp used today. Authorities said that as part of the physical training exercise the camp leader, Jerry Jkowsky, 21, Chicago, a boy tied around his waist, led boys into the river about 10 p.m. Tuesday. They had planned to cross about 150 yards of usually shallow water to an island in midstream. About 60 yards offshore, someone stepped into a hole it apparently had been caused by floodwaters this spring. The other boys holding to the side floundered and panic followed. When it began getting dark, someone hollered 'let go the rope,' said Demetrius Pychak of Chicago, one of the boys participating in the exercise. 'I thought it would be a bad race and I was the first to get ashore on the island. I heard the kids yelling: I thought it was just for fun. Then I learned it was real.' Several other campers, fishing from shore, plunged the water to give aid but the current too strong. Officials hastily summoned some of the boys who had been swept downstream were rescued. Deputies and volunteers from the surrounding area aided in the search for the boys or their bodies Wednesday but found no trace of them. The search was halted late Wednesday so that the water level could be lowered by opening dams below the camp.

New Flag to Make Official Debut July 4

Washington — (AP) — The work of an advisory group which served double duty in enlarging Old Glory will be unfurled officially next Monday. The design of the 50-star flag was recommended by the secretaries of state, defense and treasury and the chairman of the commission of fine arts after Hawaii was admitted as the 50th state.

The group earlier had performed the same task in enlarging Old Glory to add the 49th star for Alaska. That version became official just a year ago.

Only slight changes were needed to make room for the 50th star. The field of blue has nine horizontal rows of stars, arranged in alternate staggered rows of six and five stars each. The familiar 13 red and white stripes remain unchanged.

The new flag will be raised at 12:01 in July 4th ceremonies at Ft. McHenry national monument in Baltimore where Francis Scott Key wrote the words of the Star Spangled Banner.

Mrs. Frances B. Leehan, Portland, Ore., Catholic mother of 1960, received her son's first blessing after he was ordained a Redemptionist father of the Roman Catholic church at Oconomowoc. Six of Mrs. Lee-up and "his supporters are running this convention."

He asked whether opponents of a recess are suggesting Butler "and his little group proceed without the senators?"

Assaults Morton

Butler professedly is neutral in the battle for the Democratic presidential nomination, but Johnson backers consider that he has given aid to Sen. John F. Kennedy's bid for it.

In a statement earlier, Johnson had replied sharply to the assertion yesterday by Sen. Thruston B. Morton (R-Ky), Republican national chairman, that "a deal has been made for a Kennedy-Johnson ticket at the Democratic national convention," and that the recess plans is part of it.

"The silly season is on and I am sorry that it is affecting people who would otherwise talk some sense," Johnson said. "Of course, there is nothing to it."

"I can well understand," Johnson added, "why some people see 'deals' in everything that happens simply because they get into so many deals themselves."

Challenges Pelly

Johnson said he doubted Morton had written the statement himself, and asked: "Any way, how would Thruston Morton know Democratic party plans? There are lots of things he doesn't know about in his own party."

Johnson also paid his respects to Rep. Thomas M. Pelly (R-Wash) who had suggested earlier that Johnson had engineered the recess plan in an effort to help his own presidential bid.

The senator invited Pelly to try his own hand at getting some of the bills passed that now hang fire.

"If he can pass them before the conventions, I'll support every one of them he can pass," Johnson said. "I'm for all these bills."

In aligning himself with Johnson, Dirksen suggested to his colleagues that the conventions need the presence and wisdom of congress members.

He reminded them that the party conclaves have the pretty serious business of picking candidates one of whom presumably will guide the destinies of the nation for four years.

Dirksen said he agreed that congress could not complete, before the conventions, the work that should be done.

On the house side, Rayburn expressed surprise at the stand taken by the Republicans but declared their opposition would be turned back.

Rayburn Surprised

Rayburn said he was surprised because house GOP Leader Charles A. Halleck of Indiana had agreed yesterday there was no choice but to come back after the conventions.

"It doesn't make any difference," he added. "We're going to recess." He said the house vote on the recess resolution would probably be taken Saturday.

Hoeven disputed the view that congress can't complete its work before the conventions, and said he expected to pick up some Democratic support for the GOP opposition to the recess plan.

Fail to Extend Wildcat Strike

New York — (AP) — Insurgent drivers tried again today to widen their wildcat strike into a total shutdown of the city's biggest private bus company, but without success.

They posted pickets at bus garages, but there was no sign that other drivers were joining the walkout.

Early truck drivers crossed picket lines and operations appeared normal on the routes not struck.

Mass picketing which had been threatened by the wildcat strikers did not develop.

There were no harsh words between pickets and men working, only good-natured banter. The pickets made half-hearted attempts to block the buses rolling out of the garages, and moved quickly out of the way when the drivers did not stop.

Union Member Convicted of Truck Sabotage

Oregon City, Ore. — (AP) — Le-

vi S. McDonald Wednesday was convicted for the second time of dynamiting trucks that hauled for Portland's two struck daily newspapers.

A jury of eight men and four women deliberated five hours before returning the verdict of guilty against the 54-year-old McDonald, once a member of the striking stereotypers union's negotiating committee.

McDonald was accused at the trial here of damage to property by explosives in the dynamite bombing last Jan. 31 of six trucks parked in an Oregon City truck lot.

A similar charge also was returned against McDonald in Portland in the dynamiting of four trucks here Jan. 31. He was tried, convicted and sentenced to 10 years in prison. He has appealed.

The state's key witnesses in the trial here, as in the earlier one, were Gerald Alben Couzens, and the three Snyder brothers, Edward, William and Charles. All testified McDonald hired them to blow up the trucks. All have pleaded guilty and are awaiting sentence.

The vote for conviction here was 10-2.

Circuit Judge Val Sloper said sentencing will come after attorneys for both sides have submitted briefs.

The stereotypers struck the newspapers, the Oregonian and Oregon Journal, last Nov. 10. The newspapers have continued to publish with non-

Former Bar Head Charged With Tax Delinquency

Milwaukee — (AP) — A former president of the Wisconsin Bar association was charged Wednesday in criminal information filed in U.S. district court with failure to file income tax returns in 1954 and 1955.

The U. S. district attorneys office said the justice department was also studying the possibility of filing income tax evasion charges.

The information was filed against Gerald P. Hayes, 66, Wauwatosa. He said: "I have a perfectly good explanation for it, but I don't think it should be discussed through the press."

He was accused of failing to file returns on income of $34,026.89 in 1954, and $28,734.31 in 1955. The information said the tax due was about $16,000.

Scientist Asserts Health Depends on Nervous System

Prof. A. D. Speransky, director of the Institute of Experimental Medicine in Leningrad, U.S.S.R., says in a recent book:

"We are very well aware of the fact that the nervous system exhibits its functions in the organism only by producing changes in other organs. In this respect, it always inevitably acts in dual fashion. If changes take place within the nervous system, one can be assured that they will also find their expression at the periphery. The normal cycle of reactions is altered if the normal state of the nerve is disturbed. We have convinced ourselves of this on many occasions."

This conclusion has been arrived at by Professor Speransky who has over 20 other prominent scientists associated with him. It completely affirms the Chiropractic principle.

Medical Care for the Aged

The House has approved and sent on to the Senate a bill which would provide medical care for persons over 65 who are in need. The measure was worked out in the Ways and Means Committee and is a compromise resulting from weeks of argument.

Rep. John W. Byrnes of Green Bay had an important part in securing the passage of this measure. He urged the House to accept it as a step in a federal program which he pointed out "can never be static."

Rep. Byrnes said that under the Old Age Medical Care Program "no older person needing medical care will be denied that care by reason of his inability to pay for it," provided of course the states take advantage of what is offered. Under the bill the federal government offers to assume from 50 to 65 per cent of the cost of such medical care and, as Rep. Byrnes puts it, by this offer Congress indicates it is willing to "carry out a very high degree of any responsibility that can be properly attributed to the federal government in this area."

Nevertheless the Senate is going to try to liberalize this measure. Men in the Senate who are seeking the Democratic nomination for president including Sens. Kennedy (D-Mass.), Symington (D-Mo.) and the Majority Leader Johnson (D-Texas) all indicated they want to add medical benefits for all retired persons to the Social Security system. This effort may have the effect of delaying the whole program for when men are interested in running for office they find it easy to stand on an all or nothing plank.

The House bill has the support of the American Medical association. The A. M. A. listed three points in favor of the bill. First, it is voluntary. Second, it makes the states primarily responsible for the administration of the program. Finally, it provides aid "only to the needy and near-needy and preserves the right of the non-needy to take care of themselves."

Those suggestions give in very brief form the stand of the A. M. A. as to the federal government's place in financing medical care. The bill provides all that any normal citizen has a right to ask of his government but, as we see it, the three possible Democratic candidates for president may attempt to use their positions in the Senate to offer something free for votes.

Dealing With Castro

The current controversy over whether to change the Sugar Act so that the executive department will have authority to reduce quotas from Cuba ought to be required reading for future legislators whenever trade policies come up for debate or vote. Economic imperialism now has become a liability.

Some Republicans in Congress are charging that any opposition to the change is "pro-Castro," a foolish point of view aimed mostly at the same sort of tactic Fidel Castro uses. The major purpose of the Sugar Act has not been to help Cuba; it is to stabilize international trade in a commodity which fluctuated disastrously in price and amounts over the years. It is a means of protecting domestic cane and beet sugar producers from low-priced imports without a high tariff. The Russian offer to buy Cuban sugar for 2.24 cents a pound, in comparison to the U. S. price of 6.4 cents per pound, is being used by Castro in his Communist build-up but it won't buy many converts. However, Castro has used the Russian agreement as part of the strength which enables him to snap his fingers at the danger of losing the nice, high price from the United States.

Actually we are damned if we do or don't. There is no sense in continuing to subsidize a government which is so patently switching to Red allegiances and a country which can be used as the base for further Communist infiltration in Latin American areas. But, if the U. S. cuts the quota, Castro will make political hay. It is apparent, in fact, that he is willing to forego the payments for sugar and willing to let a lot of Cubans go hungry in order to further his Communist state. He allowed this type of thing when he hired a plane to burn sugar cane and then charged that it was U. S. based and ordered.

Congressman Harold Cooley has opposed the Republican amendments to the Sugar Act as "overt acts of economic aggression" and, silly as it seems, he is right. Once we manipulate international trade conditions, for whatever purpose, withdrawal of assistance can do as much harm as throwing up tariff walls. The American farmer has ably demonstrated his opposition to any reduction in artificially boosted prices that a subsidy comes to be regarded as the property of the subsidized.

Castro wants continued excuses for seizing U. S. property but, excuse or not, he'll keep right on doing it unless some Cuban patriots succeed in taking the government away from him.

This is the age-old problem of economic manipulation colliding with political aims. The executive department of government is in control of foreign policy but Congress traditionally deals with trade. The amendment giving the administration the right to curtail Cuban quotas "in the national interest" certainly would be in line with American policies. But changes in the Sugar Act should be made in regards to American needs as well as the Communist threat in Cuba. Castro is going to make the most of it no matter what we do.

Evolution in Education

In speaking before the National School Boards Association convention in Chicago, Gov. William Quinn of Hawaii injected a fresh ocean breeze into educational philosophy which is just emerging from the stuffy concepts of pragmatism.

The great ethical and philosophical traditions which led to our democracy should be studied in the schools, said Gov. Quinn. Separation of church and state is necessary but it "should not prevent the study in our schools of the fundamental tenets of American democracy which have their roots and draw their strength from the philosophical and theological wisdom of the past. If moral principles are simply conventions, the unconventional will feel no compunction about violating them. If freedom has no basis other than the latitude allowed the citizen by the state, then the state is justified in limiting the freedom of the individual whenever and wherever the state will benefit."

Gov. Quinn's stand is essentially a return to natural law philosophy, so dominant in the Declaration of Independence, that there are rights which man has inherently, whatever the government has decreed. The trend away from a reliance upon universal absolutes and a planned order of things came in the Nineteenth Century. Such philosophers as William James and John Dewey emphasized that only the consequences of any action or an idea can be used to determine whether the action or idea is true. The appalling weakness of this line of thinking is that it immediately sets up the theory that the end justifies the means. Only the conclusion that restraining ideas and actions are true can be used to restrict man's inhumanity to man for allegedly humane social purposes. It should also be pointed out that many religious groups followed this type of thinking except that revelation rather than the consequences of an idea was used to justify injustice.

The hideous triumphs of Nazi and Communist governments in which the good of the state is paramount revealed that restraints in pragmatic thinking were not enough. The blindness of collectivists in this country led to the conformities of the pseudo-liberals who broke with Fascist tactics but could not see that Communist lines were essentially the same. The pressure of "other-directed" public opinion today is probably a minor result of pragmatism.

Pragmatism is one of the philosophies which American school children should study, nor is it entirely erroneous. It led to an emphasis upon concern for social as well as individual needs and values. Its insistence upon a reason for ways and things brought about a reappraisal of subjects and instruction methods in the schools which they badly needed. Even the perversion of pragmatism into the extremes of progressive education taught educators the values of expanding schools for almost all children and the fact that some of the old ideas were right.

The reaction against pragmatism began on the college and university level and is finally seeping down into the secondary and elementary schools. The gradual change is wholesome as long as the reaction is not too severe and ideas of the past and recent past are both studied and appraised.

'Hard Learning' Is Subject of Rickover Talks

From The Omaha Sunday World Herald

After Adm. Hyman G. Rickover's recent appearance on television's "Meet the Press," the sponsors received 14 thousand letters, the council for basic education reported in its Bulletin.

That was "the greatest response in the history of the program," and the responses were "overwhelmingly favorable" to Adm. Rickover.

Political candidates who are trying desperately to attract and hold the public's attention might learn something from the admiral. He talks about the need for high standards in education and greater emphasis on "hard learning." He doesn't "butter up" the people. He confronts them with challenging, uncomfortable facts. The people listen, are convinced, and applaud.

Research Costs Not Incurred on High-Priced Drug

From News (Ga.) News

One of the arguments used by the drug industry in defending itself against charges of profiteering at the expense of poor people who are sick is that tremendous sums must be spent on research to develop new drugs.

In many cases this is true. But now, unfolded before the senate investigating subcommittee, is the story of thiorazine, a drug used to combat it. It was discovered in France and developed there. But a U. S. firm gave it the trade name thiorazine and sells it to druggists at $3 a bottle for resale to consumers at $5, while in France it sells for 77 cents for a 50-tablet bottle.

Oshkosh Praised for YMCA Drive, Other Civic Progress

From The Milwaukee Journal

It is always heartening to see evidence of progress in one of Wisconsin's major cities, especially when it reflects what appears to be new found civic vigor.

A few days ago Oshkosh wound up a whirlwind three weeks' campaign in which it not only met its goal of $800,000 for a new YMCA but went $138,000 over the top! With $200,000 already on hand and a site that is free and clear, the city on the shore of Lake Winnebago is now assured a YMCA building that will actually be a community center, open to men, women and children of all ages, creeds and races.

The Oshkosh Northwestern hails the successful drive as evidence that "a new spirit has engulfed this city," and it cites these other recent achievements: New elementary and junior high schools and a new Catholic high school, a new high school and community swimming pool under construction, the Fox River valley's only modern parking ramp, an expanded and improved water and sewer system, new industries.

In the decade just ended, Oshkosh had a solid growth. Unofficial census figures show a population increase from 41,000 to 45,000. But in the same period neighboring

Some Against Putting Eagle atop Embassy

From Columbus (Ohio) Citizen Journal

"This bird has got to go." The bird is a 34-foot gilded eagle which the state department plans to mount on the roof of the new American embassy being built in London.

The man leading the fight to pluck the bird is Rep. Wayne L. Hays, (D-Ohio) head of a house subcommittee on state department operations. It's not just a question of taste, says Hays. It's the $54,000 price tag on the thing.

Chances are, however, that the American eagle will soar in London. The state department already has the money for it.

In that case, we taxpayers have no other choice but to be proud. It belongs to us. We usually get the bird, don't we?

Potomac Fever — by Fletcher Knebel

The nation's governors convene. Fifty dark horses—with no track to run on.

Red China blasts Russia's policies. Peking's Mao to Moscow's Khrushchev: "I do not love thee, Comrade K. The reason why I can not say. But this alone I know today, I do not love thee, Comrade K."

Oscar Chapman, a Lyndon Johnson manager, says Jack Kennedy can't make it. That old religious issue again. Both Stevenson and Symington are praying Chapman is right.

Ike returns to Washington. He's still for high educational standards, but he wishes fewer students would spend their time in riotous living.

The cost of living jumps for the 4th straight month. Take all the wooden nickels you can get. The lumber alone is worth seven cents.

Congress hurries toward adjournment. One congressman's anxious to visit his district, but recoils in horror when anybody calls it a "good will tour."

Methodists name Dr. John Wesley Lord as bishop of Washington. It may not be exactly God's country on the banks of the Potomac, but now it's the Lord's.

Appleton's population bounded from 34,000 to almost 48,500 and Green Bay's from 52,750 to 62,500.

More growth is not progress, of course. But a sizable increase in population usually indicates civic and economic expansion, business confidence, greater opportunity.

Wiley's 'Voters Day' May Not Improve U. S. Record

From The Ogden (Utah) Standard Examiner

Sen. Alexander Wiley (R-Ut.) wants congress to establish a National Voters day, which would fall upon election day, as one way of encouraging more Americans to make use of their voting rights. The lawmaker cited figures for recent years. Only 63 per cent of the eligible citizens voted in 1952. The figure dropped to 42.5 in 1954. In 1956 it was 60 per cent.

The record of absenteeism from the polls surely is bad enough to call for stimulation of voter interest, but we wonder if the mere establishment of a national Voters Day will improve the situation.

More education for more people helps greatly, as the records of highly literate states, such as Utah, reveal. States with the larger numbers of uneducated or poorly educated persons generally have poor voting records.

Experience teaches, however, that one of the best ways to get a large turnout at an election is to provide stripping of Oshkosh by Appleton in population led to some self-examination. Apparently it also added force to a new spirit.

Success is infectious. It breeds new success. So we trust that the YMCA drive and other recent accomplishments will inspire Oshkosh to take on even more challenging projects.

exciting issues and dynamic candidates who conduct lively campaigns, but not even the most resourceful of politicians can whip up campaigns of this type when the materials are lacking.

Sen. Wiley believes American women need to be reminded of their civic duties. Their voting record has steadily declined, he reports, which is a surprise, taking into account women's interest in moral and social causes which often require promotion at the polls.

Looking Backward

'Unity,' Cries Democratic Paper

100 YEARS AGO

Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for the week of June 30, 1860.

There can be no hesitancy as to the duty of every Democrat and National Man in the North-West. Nor will there be. The enthusiasm with which the nomination of Douglas is received, together with the fact that scores and hundreds of Democrats who were misled in 1856 by the specious pretensions of Fremont Republicanism are now in earnest in advocating the election of the North Western Statesman, is a strong argument why we should all labor unitedly to carry the electoral vote of the State.

Here the contest is between Douglas and Lincoln. Votes for others are thrown away. Every pulsation of the public heart indicates that Wisconsin will vote for Douglas. We can if we will. Nail the banner to the mast, work on and work ever, and Wisconsin will be redeemed from the thrall-dom of corruption. Our best energies will be devoted to that end.

The Democracy of the river valley, the farmers, mechanics and working men of Outagamie are united and in earnest. The ramparts are manned, the hosts are marshalled eager for the fray. On to victory," the Union, the Constitution and the Enforcement of the laws."

Thursday, June 27, 1935

The Democratic sponsored budget bill, authorizing $33,915,906 of state expenditures during the next two fiscal years, or approximately $2,629,450 more than recommended by Gov. LaFollette, was passed by the senate by a vote of 23 to 8.

Abandonment of the statewide 1 o'clock a.m. closing hour for taverns in favor of local ordinances was refused approval by the assembly when it killed the Zimny bill which previously had passed the senate.

In a session devoted to fishing measures, the assembly refused to give the state conservation commission discretion over fishing and hunting in outlying waters, but also refused to remove the commission's power to open and close inland game and fish seasons.

F. N. Belanger, exalted ruler of the Appleton Elks lodge, and Sarto Balliet were to head a committee for the reception of Leo J. Promen, Fond du Lac, who was scheduled to arrive here by plane that afternoon, on a booster tour advertising the 1935 state convention of Elks to be held Aug. 8, 9 and 10 at Fond du Lac.

Under the Capitol Dome

Nelson May Seek the 'Conservation Vote'

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

Madison — The number of his speech scripts recently devoted to conservation department affairs and issues makes it fairly evident that Gov. Gaylord Nelson intends to exploit the "conservation vote," whatever that may be, in his bid for reelection.

What the leader of the Democratic party ticket does is what the lesser lights on the Democratic side of the election ballot will do.

It is apparent that Nelson is somewhat more interested in affairs of natural resources management, and perhaps as a result more closely informed, than some of his predecessors. It is not so clear that 1) there are any legitimate or defined political issues in the field of conservation, or 2) that there is a measurable "conservation vote" that a politician can play for and exploit.

Obviously there are hundreds of thousands of Wisconsin adults who love the outdoors, who hunt and fish and go camping or bird-watching. But are those hobbies first in their political reactions, or are they working men and members of unions, businessmen, taxpayers and thoughtful persons who measure men and parties on a broader range of tests and issues?

THE DOUBT

The governor started his term with a drastic proposal for a complete change of leadership in the conservation administration. He proposed to throw out the entire conservation commission, and to establish a new one of his choosing. The legislature spurned that with a rather significant decisiveness. The general impression among outsiders at the exciting issues and dynamic candidates who conduct lively campaigns, but not even the most resourceful of politicians can whip up campaigns of this type when the materials are lacking.

Sen. Wiley believes American women need to be reminded of their civic duties. Their voting record has steadily declined, he reports, which is a surprise, taking into account women's interest in moral and social causes which often require promotion at the polls.

time was that it was a mistake. Nelson has appeared to verify that impression subsequently by dropping the subject.

In his frequent speeches on conservation matters now he will talk about what he calls the positive gains of his administration, in the way of new legislation, without a reference to the commissioners he wanted to throw out on their ears only a year ago.

In point of fact, of course, his differences with the commission are not evident to the public. They had no real disputes in legislative approaches this year. The governor named two new commissioners, as was his right under the present law, and chose them carefully. The interested private citizen might assume that if there are any basic differences between the administration and the majority holdover commissioners they would have been made public by this time.

Yet Nelson's men have held office since last spring and there has been no visible divergence from the will of the majority on their part. Indeed, they are getting along with such manifest affability as to cause the observer to wonder what all the shouting was about a year ago when the governor demanded the ouster of the commissioners en masse.

THE GAINS?

The governor is talking mostly, when he boasts about his conservation record, about a new law to provide public access to recreational waters, and an order to the conservation department to prepare for the classification of recreational lakes for an ultimate program of use regulation.

Both involve new conceptions of public law, and show a certain imagination. But like some modern music, it sounds better than it is. The public access program is necessarily limited, and, in any event, there was plenty of law on the subject for local government if they had any desire to move in response to legitimate public demand.

The lake classification study probably is more significant, not for itself, but for what it portends. It recognizes the inexorable changes in population, in popular habits and the development of the state. But it is no more than a promise of possible future action. And unless the governor keeps prodding the bureaucrats in charge, it may be four to five years before there is any kind of a blueprint for legislative consideration. On these matters the bureaucracy shows a lint picking tendency, as an Irish relative might put it.

Russian Cars on U. S. Market Could Mean Stiff Competition

From The Rocky Mountain News

The Kremlin announces a franchise to a mysterious U. S. auto dealer for sale of 10,000 Russian-made Moskvich cars in this country — with assurances that spare parts will be available. Retail U. S. price is as yet unknown; and if the spare parts promise is as reliable as Khrushchev's other promises, U. S. buyers had better beware.

Our government had better beware, too, of this threatened Soviet invasion of the U. S. market with cars which the Kremlin can sell at any prices it pleases. This is part of what Khrushchev means by peaceful co-existence — which actually is cut-throat competition.

File Application for $250,000 Grant

City Asks Aid to Build Secondary Treatment Plant

An application for $250,000 compared to the 26 per cent federal aid will be filed Friday by the present primary plant. By removing more of the organic matter the BOD factor (biological oxygen demand) will be reduced to the point where the sewage is stabilized and will not absorb any more oxygen.

92 Per Cent Removal

When the effluent is discharged into the river it will not take any more oxygen out of the water, eliminating one of several conditions which kill fish.

Sewage which goes through the entire plant, primary and secondary process, will have 92 per cent of organic matter removed. The state requirement is 75 per cent.

By 1980, when peak daily capacity of 20 million gallons is reached, 16 million will be treated fully and 4 million given primary treatment only. The average organic removal of the two will be 75 per cent.

Full Treatment

Greely and Hansen, Chicago, have engineered the plant to accommodate a population of 71,000 by 1980.

The plant is designed to fully treat all sewage predicted, except four million gallons a day, which will be given partial treatment.

The added facility will remove 75 to 80 per cent of all organic matter in the sewage.

Tin Can Celebrates Its 150th Anniversary

Washington — A special anniversary is due the tin can this year. The humble container is 150 years old.

The can has served man faithfully from polar wastes to jungle swamps. It is no stranger in the leaf-thatched households of people who have never heard a radio or seen an electric range.

In many lands the can is more prized than its contents and commands a handsome price at the local bazaar, the National Geographic society says. Many primitive homes are built of cans, especially the large tins used to carry gasoline.

Double Anniversary

Not just the tin can but the canning process itself passes the century-and-a-half mark this year. The story began in 1795 when the French government offered a 12,000-franc prize to anyone who could find a way to preserve food. At that time, food constantly spoiled. Soldiers and sailors, in particular, had dreary and sometimes dangerous fare.

Inspired by the waiting award, an obscure French confectioner named Nicolas Appert began experimenting. For years he patiently worked in a tiny kitchen behind his shop. He discovered that food would keep if he cooked it, packed it in tightly closed glass jars, then cooked it again.

Fifteen years after his first efforts, he presented his notes to the government, and on Jan. 30, 1810, he collected the prize. Unfortunately, he went broke trying further experiments and was buried in a pauper's grave.

The same year that Appert received his prize, an English food processor named Peter Durand varied Appert's method by putting edibles in tin-coated iron containers. Durand's "tin cannisters" became known as "tins" in Britain and "cans" in the United States.

Pioneer on Scene

Pioneer canners did not really know what their problems were. Appert himself believed that air spoiled food. It remained for Louis Pasteur to find that microorganisms cause most spoilage. Correct heating destroys bacteria, thus preserves the food. Properly canned, food lasts almost indefinitely. In 1938, the century-and-a-half mark was reached by the tin can. In 1938, the story began in 1795 when the French government offered a 12,000-franc prize to anyone who could find a way to preserve food. At that time, food constantly spoiled. Soldiers and sailors, in particular, had dreary and sometimes dangerous fare.

Inspired by the waiting award, an obscure French confectioner named Nicolas Appert began experimenting. For years he patiently worked in a tiny kitchen behind his shop. He discovered that food would keep if he cooked it, packed it in tightly closed glass jars, then cooked it again.

Billions Produced

At first foods were preserved chiefly as out-of-season luxuries. But machinery lowered processing costs and widened the market. Today the United States alone turns out more than 40 billion cans a year, according to the Canning Manufacturers Institute. The tin can itself has all ways been something of a misnomer. It is a steel con-

Soda Pop, Hot Dogs—and bugs landing in the potato salad are a sure sign of indoor-outdoor living that marks the picnic season. These traditional family affairs are enjoyed by both the outdoor enthusiast who takes the bare necessities and the perfectionist who needs a trailer-load of gear. Above, Mr. and Mrs. Allan Pfeil, 239 N. Green Bay street, enjoy the Trinity Lutheran church picnic with their children Robin, left, and Cheryl, right.

Casserole, Corn, Garlic Bread Add Much to Barbecue

It seems almost everyone is trying their hand at smoke cooking lately, and getting tasty results. To turn out a really top meal try these recipes with your favorite smoke-barbecued meat.

Potato Casserole
Cut potatoes in strips as for French fries. Arrange them in a buttered casserole in layers, sprinkling each layer with grated natural sharp cheddar cheese, salt, pepper and minced thyme, minced chives, a very little dill and parsley. (Prepared "herbs for salad" may be substituted.) Pour over half and half milk and cream to fill the casserole about two-thirds full. Top with a final layer of grated cheese. Cover casserole with foil and place on the grill one hour before the lamb is finished. Remove the foil cover during the last 30 minutes of the cooking.

Vegetables Take To-Foil Cookery
Hot vegetables no longer are a problem at the outdoor meal. Bake white or sweet potatoes in tight wrappings of foil. Even frozen vegetables need no cooking pot. The expert merely unwraps frozen vegetables and places them in square of double thickness of foil. Add a pat of butter, one tablespoon water, seal foil packet tightly. Cook over low coals.

Perfect Hamburgers
Streamlined way to cut perfect hamburgers! Roll out meat between waxed paper and cut patties with a tumbler or large biscuit cutter. Stack and store in refrigerator until picnic time.

Strike Menaces Apricot Canning
Canned apricot output is menaced by a cannery strike. Apricot packing activity normally would be at a peak in California by the end of the week, but 66 plants have been idled since Thursday by a strike of 10,000 Teamster members.

Canners say they will have to write off most of the prospective pack if the strike lasts much more than two weeks. Should it continue into late July, the impact would spread to tomatoes, peaches and pears.

Cranberries Good All Year Round

Cranberries are always associated with the fall months, and of course Thanksgiving. But with today's wonderful shipping methods we can have fresh cranberries out of the usual season. The recipes below will help you make full use of this blessing.

Jellied Sauce
An easy rule of thumb to remember for making jellied cranberry sauce is four to two to one—four cups fresh cranberries, two cups sugar, one cup water. Mix together in a saucepan, cover and cook on a low flame until skins pop, about eight minutes.

Castard
Cranberry custard is an easy-to-make and delicious dessert. Just fill sherbet glasses 1 full with soft custard, spoon in 2 tablespoons cranberry sauce and finish filling with custard. Top with whipped cream if desired.

Shortcake
Fresh cranberry shortcake is a perfect holiday dessert. Split warm rich biscuit and put together in shortcake fashion with cold fresh cranberry sauce and whipped cream.

Study Industrial Debits, Credits

Blue Ribbon Group Seeks to Find How Wisconsin Ranks With Others

Madison — A task force of the blue ribbon tax revision committee Wednesday started nailing down industrial locational factors and how Wisconsin measures up with other states in the debits and credits that influence local industrial settlement.

The group is headed by Edwin Larkin of Eau Claire, who was apparently impressed by a recent challenge by distinguished Wisconsin leader of business that Wisconsin's industrial tax reputation is unfavorable and that definitive study of the facts is the state's great present need in planning its economic future. The report came from Edmund Fitzgerald, also a member of Gov. Nelson's advisory commission and recently retired head of the Northwestern Mutual Insurance company.

Larkin indicated that his group will strive to include in its report:

- How Wisconsin has measured up lately in industrial expansion and the attraction of industry with competing states in the central part of the country.
- What relation the tax climate here and elsewhere has had to industrial growth or migration.
- An inventory of other locational factors, and Wisconsin's comparative advantages and disadvantages under each of them.
- The tone of the discussions indicated that the Larkin group regards the mission as central to its general tax burden investigations, and that its findings may influence the later report and recommendations on tax revision to be filed with the legislature in about six months by the full commission headed by President Miller Upton of Beloit college.

Other Factors

Meanwhile the state department of taxation, now headed by an administration Democrat, John Gronowski, filed a memorandum with the study

Book Put Son In 'Shock,' Mother Says

Milwaukee—A mother testified Wednesday night that her 14-year-old son "went into a state of shock" after reading parts of a book loaned to him by suspended school teacher Edwin M. Wasilewski.

Mrs. Dorothy Jurkowski appeared before the school board, which is considering charges against Wasilewski that he discussed sex in his classroom at Boys Tech. He was suspended by Supt. of Schools Harold S. Vincent.

Wasilewski admitted earlier in the hearing that he loaned a book to Mrs. Jurkowski's son last fall when the boy was in his English class. The book, on the public library restricted list is titled "A History of Sexual Customs."

Shortly after the boy got the book he was hospitalized for mental illness.

Counsel for Wasilewski in cross-examination of Mrs. Jurkowski brought out that the boy had been under a physician's care prior to the incident. She also said that when a school counselor came to her house she gave the book to him and told him that the boy had not read the book.

The hearing closed after Wednesday's session and attorneys for the school board and Wasilewski were given until Aug. 1 to file briefs. The board must approve any hiring or firing of personnel.

Charlie Shares His Recipes For Living in the Wild Outdoors

BY CHARLES HOUSE
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

The shoots of the young bracken, a fern-like plant, are edible. I found wild asparagus and nibbled it, fresh and raw. Water cress was common enough, and I used it for greens.

Wild chives and onions were abundant and I used them from time to time.

My trip took place in the springtime so I could not find berries or nuts and acorns from last year are too bitter to eat raw and troublesome to prepare.

Acorns should be boiled (English oak is best) for several hours, then soaked in fresh water for a few days. After mashing and drying, it makes a rather good flour for rough bread or pancakes.

When I could not catch other fish, I popped crayfish in salty boiling water, peeled them and ate the fleshy tail, much as one eats lobster. (I carried salt because I know of no salt producing plant in North America.)

eggs, porcupine and rabbits.

Most of all, I missed coffee.

I keep a promise today, one but the 2-pound package was made shortly after returning from a canoe trip, to tell of the edibles I found and used in the river and forests.

I discarded the food I had arranged, because the portages were too long, too tough and I was alone.

Since I was a teenager, one of my hobbies has been edible plants so I knew I could get along on fish, weeds or herbs. Some days I could not catch fish so I had to use crayfish, seagull a mayweed tea, but it is not as tasty. I could find no chicory for coffee from roots and salad from leaves.

Plants provided my starches. Suitable "potatoes" are the roots from the solomon's seal. Bulrush is good, too, and can be eaten raw or boiled. Mostly, I used the cattail roots.

First they are peeled and the white inner portion grated between rocks. Cattail shoots are good to eat and plentiful.

I also used the roots of the jack-in-the-pulpit, but these are so extremely bitter they must be boiled five or six times.

I ate the seagulls' eggs although the fish taste was not pleasant. To disguise that taste, I applied chopped wild chives. One evening I ate 26 eggs. I also tried to eat a seagull, but couldn't get him down.

Porcupine Meat Tough

Porcupine don't run from you; I ate at least four of them, sometimes fried, sometimes baked. One was so tough I had to cut strips of meat and mash them between rocks, a sort of primitive "pre-mastication" process.

Rabbits were not difficult to snare and I dined on them many times. Sometimes I would preserve their fat to use in frying. One day I caught 45 good-sized frogs and ate frog legs most of the day.

I discovered a reasonable method of eating very small fish, but preparing them was a chore because of the small amounts of meat and many bones. I cleaned and boiled them all together. The meat would almost fall off and I would scrape it into the frying pan and have no trouble with bones.

I must add; however, that at trip's end — 33 days later — I had lost 15 pounds.

Kennedy Bags Michigan, Montana Vote

Lansing, Mich. —(AP)— Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) today bagged 41 votes, with the possibility of adding 4 more, in an Associated Press presidential preference poll of the 51-vote Michigan delegation to the Democratic national convention.

Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, a principal rival, was blanked.

The tally in a telephone canvass of 102 delegates, each with one-half vote, gave this result when converted to first ballot votes at the national convention:

Kennedy 41, Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo) 31, Adlai E. Stevenson 21, Johnson 0, undecided 4.

Another survey today indicated that Sen. Kennedy will also have the largest share of Montana delegates in his corner for the presidential nomination.

Montana has 17 votes in the convention. The vote will be cast by 34 persons, each with half a vote.

On the basis of statements by newly elected delegates, Kennedy will have 61 votes, Sen. Stuart Symington 21, Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson 11, and Adlai Stevenson 1. Four votes are uncommitted. Two delegates declined to disclose their choice to reporters and two could not be reached immediately.

The survey was made by the Associated Press following selection of the delegates Monday.

Two Drivers Deny Charges in Court

An Art Organization Is Discussed

BY JEAN HAMMOND

Few things ever burst spontaneously into the full bloom of reality. Whether it's a building or an organization its actual existence goes back to far humbler beginnings. First, there's a need, unrecognized perhaps for a long period of time, but nevertheless there. Then someone senses the need, and an idea develops. From this point on, the fulfillment may take much time or little, depending on how many people are interested and how willing they are to work. Nothing accomplishes itself. Many people in our city feel the need to foster and increase our cultural scope. Appleton is growing, not just in numbers, but in forms of self-expression. As one man put it, "Feeding the body is not quite enough. Now and then one wants to feed the soul."

An Idea Blooms

Recently a group of artists met at a north side home for this very purpose. These are people who earn their livings outside of the creative art world. One is a commercial artist. There is a photographer, an architect, home-makers, a few who have no talent as painters but who appreciate and enjoy the medium.

"I think it's time we translated all this talk into some kind of action," one of the women says. "I'm certain there's plenty of interest in Appleton. It's just that no one has started the ball rolling. We need a group of active people who will stimulate the interest of everyone who cares about art and its appreciation."

They decide that any organization without a clearly defined purpose is apt to deteriorate into a social get-together. After much discussion their aim is put into these words: The purpose shall be to encourage artists and the appreciation of art; to purchase, borrow, lease or otherwise obtain works of art for public display and to engage in other not-for-profit related activities, including lectures and films which are expressions of them exist for everyone."

The group decides to meet often during the summer to discuss and form an organization. In the fall they'll file articles of incorporation. It will take time, and much effort. But these are people familiar with art, its purpose, its display and subjects related to it. The beginning is small; the aim lofty. They are a group keenly interested, not only in displaying their own efforts but in working to establish a center for the entire community. They want a place where our children can freely come and go in contact with art work done in the past. They want them to know how it affects people today; how anything of real value doesn't suffer under the hand of time. They want to make available to everyone the opportunity to raise their level of appreciation. They want to do the city of Appleton a great service. May they succeed! This is Appleton.

"A fine achievement, once realized," the photographer points out, "but getting there is something else again. Such a project will demand the support of many civic minded people. Do you think we'll get it?"

"I do," a gaunt artist with hollows in his cheeks declares. "That's the importance of not making this an organization just for artists. The person who has an eye for beauty, regardless of whether or not he is able to express it himself, will play a major role in an endeavor."

Serve Everyone

"Exactly," a woman who's been painting since the age of 15 agrees. "This must be a group which will serve the needs of everyone, not just the artist, or the educated or the wealthy. Life, beauty and the

What Could be More suitable for Independence day than a special Flag Cake? This one is a standard butter cake recipe with a blend of fresh orange juice and crushed pineapple added. After it's baked and frosted, the cake is decorated with stars and stripes cut from jellied cranberry sauce.

Our Two Newest States of Hawaii and Alaska are honored with these two dishes. Inexpensive riblets, strips of breast of lamb are browned and topped with a Hawaiian-style sweet and sour marachino cherry sauce in the skillet dish. State No. 49 is represented by the star-shaped Cherry Baked Alaska, a delicious meringue-covered dessert.

Independence Day Snacks with a bit of snap are these "Firecrackers" that use a variety of crackers and favorite cheeses. One example: Spread thin, bacon-flavored crackers with softened cream cheese. Stack together and lay on its side. Frost all around with cheese. Chill. Garnish with thin pretzel sticks and pimiento strips to resemble firecrackers. To serve, slice diagonally. Triscuit wafers, thin triangular crackers and other varieties may be used with smokey cheese or relish cheese spreads.

Go Patriotic July 4 With Imaginative Food Tricks

BY LILLIAN MACKESY
Post-Crescent Food Editor

With the long Independence day weekend ahead... there's room for imaginative meals... especially this history-making year when two new states officially join the union... Hawaii and Alaska.

Food has as much a place in the holiday fanfare as fireworks, decorative bunting, patriotic speeches, parades and the unfurling of the new 50-star flag. With the holiday stretching through Monday, it's a fine time to indulge in a culinary history lesson... it can provide both charm and good eating for the family celebration.

There's a trick to keeping menus easy... borrow from the theater... use props to "dress up" simple meals... turn them into holiday specials. Flags can decorate cool drinks... a butter cake can become a gorgeous Independence day cake through the decorative touch of cranberry sauce stars and stripes... make the field of stars a circle of 13 to honor that first Independence day long ago.

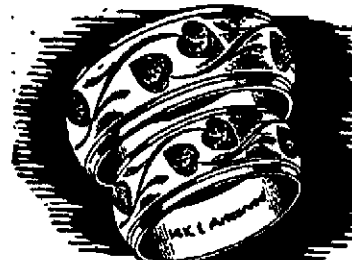

An outdoor supper party, patio luncheon or family dinner can feature Marachino Cherry Lamb Skillet with Hawaiian sauce and a delicious Cherry Baked Alaska for dessert in honor of our two newest states... ice cream can become pert little drums with the help of pretzels and cherries.

Here are a few July 4 ideas in both picture and recipe form to make the 1960 holiday one to remember.

The Touch of Trim or the props are what make this convenience meal of salad, cold meats and beverage into a gala holiday setting. Bright red pimiento stars are imbedded in the grapefruit and cabbage salad ring, the small flags standing upright in the glasses of limeade are anchored in lime wedges and firecracker appetizers ring the round platter of assorted luncheon meats. Each firecracker, made of cream cheese rolled in paprika, has a bit of celery for a fuse.

Bake in 375-degree oven about 50 minutes or until done. Cool. Frost with white fluffy frosting mix or other white frosting. Decorate cake with stars and stripes cut from jellied cranberry sauce.

Marachino Cherry Lamb Skillet
3 pounds lamb riblets
2 1/2 cups unsweetened pineapple juice
1 cup vinegar
2/3 cup marachino cherry juice
1 cup halved marachino cherries
2 teaspoons salt
1 teaspoon ginger
1 teaspoon nutmeg
1 teaspoon allspice
1 teaspoon cloves
1 cup cornstarch cooked rice

Cook lamb over medium heat until browned on all sides. Combine two cups pineapple juice, vinegar, cherry juice, cherries, salt and four other spices. Mix well. Add to lamb. Cover skillet and cook over low heat until lamb is tender, about 30 minutes.

Blend remaining half cup pineapple juice with cornstarch. Stir into lamb mixture and cook, stirring constantly, until thickened and clear. Serve over cooked rice.

Cherry Baked Alaska
1 pkg. pound cake mix
1 cup chocolate ice cream, softened
1 cup lemon sherbet, softened
1 cup coffee ice cream, softened
1 cup halved marachino cherries, drained
1 pkg. meringue mix
1/3 cup water
1/3 cup marachino cherry juice sliced cherries for garnish

Prepare pound cake mix according to package directions. Turn into greased 1 1/2-quart star mold. Bake in 325 - degree oven for 60 to 70 minutes, or until cake tests done. Cool. Cut cake in half crosswise. Alternate layers of ice cream, sherbet and cherry halves in 1 1/2 - quart star mold. Freeze until firm.

Combine meringue mix, water and cherry juice. Blend thoroughly. Beat until meringue holds stiff peaks.

Unmold ice cream mixture and arrange between cake layers. Place cake on brown paper on baking sheet. Spread top and sides with meringue mixture, covering completely. Garnish top with sliced cherries. Bake in 450-degree oven five minutes or until lightly browned. Serve immediately.

Perfection Salad
2 cans grapefruit sections canned grapefruit juice
2 envelopes unflavored gelatin
1 cup sugar
1 teaspoon salt
1 pimiento
2 cups shredded cabbage
1 cup diced celery

Drain grapefruit; add enough grapefruit juice to make three and one-half cups. Sprinkle gelatin on one cup of juice in saucepan. Place over medium heat, stirring constantly until gelatin is dissolved. Remove from heat; add sugar and salt, stirring until dissolved. Stir in remaining grapefruit juice.

Cut pimiento with small star cutter. Arrange pimiento stars with several grapefruit section in bottom of a 6-cup ring mold. Pour in one-half cup of the gelatin liquid; chill until almost firm. Chill remaining liquid until consistency of unbeaten egg white. Fold in cabbage, celery and one cup of grapefruit sections. Turn into ring mold, on top of "set" mixture. Chill until firm. Unmold and garnish with remaining fruit sections and salad greens.

Slapping Won't Curb Runabout's Instincts

BY ANGELO PATRI

Timmy, three, was at the stage where he was, getting into everything. His mother was very particular about the way the house looked, being what was admirably termed, a fine housekeeper.

Timmy, knowing nothing about housekeeping or his mother's pride in it, got into everything. He pulled the drawers of the kitchen cabinet open and spread their contents on the floor while his mother was making the beds. When she saw the clutter on the floor and Timmy sitting in the midst of it, she lost her temper and slapped him. This sort of thing went on all day. Timmy got into something and was slapped. He was slapped for what he did and what he didn't do.

Slapping became a sort of reflex in his mother. Timmy began to lose his appetite, and became too quiet. Finally, Timmy was sick.

It is understandable that a mother who has no help with the children loses patience at times and slaps one of them. Maybe he needed a slap, but slapping should not become a habit. It should be a rare, very rare occurrence. Children's healthy growth is of far greater importance than the picture book house.

Phase Will Pass

Unless there is help in caring for the children, or for the house, one or the other should not be the children. The 'getting-into-everything' phase of growth, an essential one for the child's health of mind and body, will pass. It does not last too long. It merges into another phase of growth and enriches it if the first phase was allowed to develop and go its way.

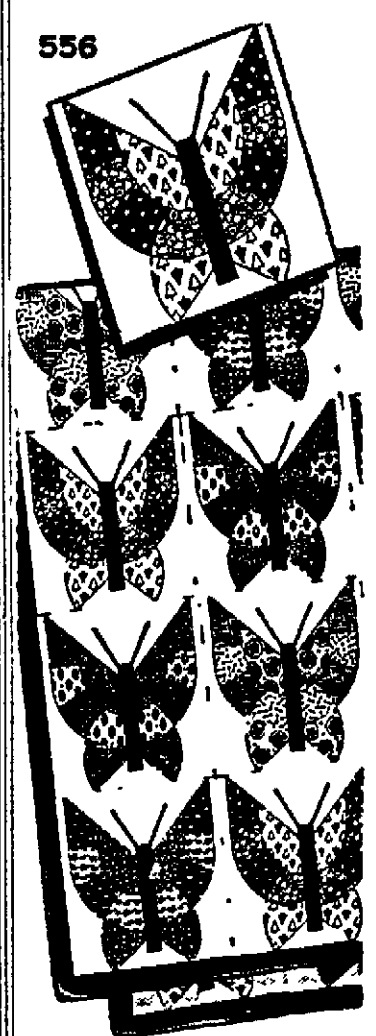

Rearing a child or a family of children, is a long and arduous task if the mother makes it so by pushing it into the background for some other interest. It does not take that treatment with any degree of profit on either side because child-nature persists in children and their mothers must go along with it is it proceeds on its changing way. Otherwise the struggle between the mother's interest and the child's instincts is likely to make life miserable for both sides.

Compromise is the only solution I can see. Standing by to help and protect the runabout, while teaching him patiently what he can and what he cannot do, making certain that he is shown what he can do and seeing that the permissives outnumber the prohibitions, will help. A box or a drawer that is his to open and shut, to hold things he can use, helps. Saying No, all day long, slapping him time after time, will not serve. Putting breakables in safe places will be a great help. A sense of humor and an inclination to laughter, helps mightily.

Angelo Patri offers readers leaflets on a variety of subjects concerning child training. If you would like to have his leaflet P-4, "Crying Children," send 10 cents in coin to him, care of this paper, P. O. Box 98, Station G, New York 19, N.Y.

Keep Alert With Low Contracts

BY ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Part score contracts are not very dramatic, but they have their importance. You can't afford to let an opponent steal a hand you should have beaten.

West opened the queen of hearts, and East took the ace, and returned the deuce. South won the king of hearts and lost a diamond to East's ace. Back came a heart, and West took his tricks.

West then shifted to the jack of spades, and dummy won. East signaled encouragement with the seven of spades, but this was hardly needed since dummy's spade discard on the fourth heart had made it clear that South didn't hold the queen of spades.

of clubs from dummy and put up the king of clubs from his own hand. West pounced on this trick with the ace of clubs, thinking South had misguessed a finesse with clubs headed by K-10 rather than by K-Q.

Fatal Error
This was a fatal error, for now South could win the rest of the tricks. He got four clubs, two spades, a heart and a diamond, making the contract with an overtrick.

How could West tell South had the queen of clubs? He already knew East had started with both red aces and the queen of spades. If East also had the queen of clubs, would he have passed three times? Not very likely.

West could afford to refuse the first club trick for then South would be limited to one club, one heart, two spades and two diamonds. Even when the contract is only a part score a defender's first duty is to defeat the contract.

Daily Question
Partner opens with one no trump (16 to 18 points) and the next player passes. You hold: S 5 2, H K 6, D 5 4 3 2 and C K Q 10 9 8. What do you say?

Answer: Bid two no trump. You have eight points in high cards and should count another point for the length and strength in clubs. This is enough to invite a game, but not quite enough to force. If partner has a bare 16 points and wants to decline the invitation to game, you will be satisfied with his decision. (Copyright, 1960)

HAVE YOU SEEN THE CHANGES?

A Lovelier You

By Mary Sue Miller

Correct Carriage Counts

When wearing a swim suit, a damsel has the choice of looking like a mermaid or like beached flotsam. "Fully," some," might be a more descriptive word.

What makes the difference? It's her carriage, good or bad. A slouchy stance, a plodding walk, a sprawling seated position—all spell ruin to the feminine figure and worse, to the charm of the feminine personality. Let's not have it happen to anyone we know!

As a prevention, heed these basic rules for attractive swim-suit carriage:

1. When standing, stretch tall—pull neck out of shoulders and waist out of hips; draw derriere under body and retract stomach; keep feet and knees together.

2. To walk barefooted, gracefully, do as ballet dancers do—let toes touch ground a split second before heel and with each step, extend ankles fully.

3. While seated on ground, hold spine in straight line and legs together, either in front of body or drawn to one side. Lying on back or tummy, stretch as tall as when standing; cradle head in hands, or rest arms at sides, draw legs together.

You do, and you'll appear Neptune's own daughter!

For a lovelier figure, walk with the grace that nature intended! To check or improve on your ability, send for "Clues to Good Carriage," my leaflet giving complete instructions on shoes, stockings and walking techniques that enhance both carriage and legline. Write to me in care of this newspaper, enclosing a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope, and five cents in coin. (Copyright, 1960)

PET DOCTOR

By A. W. Miller, D.V.M.

Q. Is it true that our dog will become fat if we have her spayed?

A. Removal of the ovaries (spaying) slows down the endocrine glands and metabolism of the adult dog. However, if the dog is spayed before sexual maturity, there is little interference in puppy metabolism. Early spaying even helps the dog maintain a perennial puppy personality. When the operation is performed after maturity, the female literally goes through "change of life" and there is mental as well as physical change. In my opinion, any dog can lose her girlish figure and have middle-aged spread if diet and exercise are not wisely observed by the owner. (Address your question to)

Most Children Have It Easier Than Parents, Ann Tells Youth

BY ANN LANDERS
DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am 10 years old and already I am writing to an advice column.
I have the greatest parents you could ask for. The trouble is they keep telling me that they had it much harder when they were my age. My dad Ann Landers keeps harping that he helped on a farm, took care of chickens, milked cows and tended the vegetable garden all by himself.

often produce great individuals.
DEAR ANN: A few years ago a buddy of mine kept twisting my arm to take out his cousin. I thought she was a sweet kid but I never did ask her out. He warned me that one day I'd be sorry I didn't glom on to this chick. Well, he was right. I'm 24 now and the girl is 22. She is going steady with another guy and I find myself thinking of her night and day. This may sound crazy to you because she has no idea how I feel. I've never taken her out but we've been thrown together at several parties and have spent many hours just talking.

Shall I sweat it out and hope she doesn't marry the guy? Or shall I be a cad and call her for a date and take my chances? — Salesman Sam
Dear Sam: She's not married — or even engaged. She's merely going steady. By all means call her for a date. You have nothing to lose. A good salesman knows that you have to get results.

Prepare For Job Interview

Look in your mirror before you look for a job. A girl who looks and acts business-like may win out over one with more experience.
Here are some "do's" and "don'ts" to help the young job-seeker make a business-like impression. The "do's" are:
1. Do keep make-up light, hair smooth, clothes simple, accessories snowy clean, hems and heels in good repair.
2. Do arrive on time for appointments. Too early is just as annoying as too late for busy executives.
3. Do bring and be ready to show references, credentials, working papers (if necessary) and resumes.
4. Do speak conversationally. The interviewer is a human being, not a god.
5. Do ask questions—about the duties of the job, the wages and hours.
Here are the "don'ts":
1. Don't wear your Sunday best, bare dresses, glittery accessories, oversized hats or hats with veils. In the shoe department, avoid flats, wedgies and sandals.
2. Don't inquire only about what you get from the job, but also what you give.
3. Don't smoke—even if you're offered a cigarette.
4. Don't grumble about past jobs or employers.
5. Don't forget to express thanks for the interview.

Relatives Should be Invited

BY EMILY POST

Dear Mrs. Post: My daughter is to be married soon. She plans a very small wedding, with no reception. The groom's parents and also his closest relatives live quite a good distance from here. Of course his parents will, come to the wedding and also some of his closest relatives will drive here to see the wedding. As there is to be no reception afterwards, I would like to know if it is necessary for me to invite the groom's parents and relatives back to my house after the ceremony for some light refreshments. I have been told that it would be very in hospitable not to offer them something after having driven such a long distance. Will you please give me your opinion. Also, if you say I should ask them back to my house would this not cause hard feelings with local friends and relatives?
Answer: You should ask them to your house after the ceremony, and your local friends and relatives will understand that it is not for a reception, but to give the groom's relatives something to eat before their long drive home.

Announcing Adoption

Dear Mrs. Post: Although a child's adoption does not become final for at least a year, is there any kind of announcement that could be sent out to relatives and friends of the family before the final adoption?
Answer: The following form might be sent out:
Mr. and Mrs. New Parents have the happiness to announce the arrival and prospective adoption of Alice aged one month
Dear Mrs. Post: When dining in a restaurant, where

Choose Suitable Luggage

Part of easy traveling and good packing is having luggage that suits your purposes. Study your pieces of luggage so you'll know what you have available for certain occasions. Don't take several small pieces of luggage which are hard to manage if one large piece will do. Usually a small case about 18 to 21 inches in length is sufficient for overnight, while an additional 24 to 29 inch case is convenient when you want to take a larger wardrobe.
If you are traveling in a car, you may want to use garment bags to carry your dresses and coats. You don't have to fold them and then iron the clothes when you get ready to wear them.
If you're going to buy luggage, shop carefully to meet your own needs. There is a lot of light-weight luggage on the market for traveling by air and for easier carrying. There are also a lot of accessories today to make traveling easier. Travel cases for shoes, hose, underwear, jewelry and cosmetics can be carried in your suitcase. Another handy travel accessory is a small sewing case to hold needles, scissors, threads, and pins.

Sen. Draheim Hits At Bureaucracy Trend in State

Tells Kiwanians Opposition To Wisconsin Going Into Debt

Neenah — State Sen. William A. Draheim expressed a fear the state may become as much a bu-
Washington in his talk to the Neenah Kiwanis club Wednesday noon at the Valley Inn.

Discussing the various state aids to communities, he remarked that "the more the state sends, back, the greater a bureau becomes at Madison with its need for more persons to oversee the aids, more typists and clerks and more offices."

He expressed strong opposition to suggestions being offered that the state be allowed to go into debt to take care of some of its building programs. "You have seen it on the national level and it is not advisable."

"It's difficult to say 'no' to expenditures and politicians have a habit of spending too much of the tax dollar."

The state senator mentioned he often had to vote against funds for something he really preferred because there was no money available for it. For doing this he said he had been called a crusader.

K-C Expands Winnipeg Mill By 60 Per Cent

Addition to Office, Plant Built This Year

Neenah — Two expansion programs in less than a year at Kimberly - Clark corporation's plant at Winnipeg in Canada will increase that plant's capacity by 60 per cent.

The first expansion was a 1,000 square foot office addition to the mill, built five years ago. This was begun last October to provide space for IBM equipment acquired for the mill's new billing department and to house a small laboratory for the quality control department and an office for the plant superintendent.

The latest addition provides increased space for warehouse operations now and later for converting operations.
It will increase storage capacity from 20,000 cases of finished product to 45,000 cases.

The Canadian mill now rents 3,500 square feet of storage space in a nearby warehouse. The addition also will enable reduction of inventries held in public warehouses in western Canada.

Twin Cities May Face Changes in Ordinances

Supreme Court Rules Unconstitutional Requirement of Cast Iron Sewer Laterals

Neenah — Twin City officials today offered differing reactions to Tuesday's state supreme court decisions banning restrictions that sewer laterals must be of cast iron pipe.

Mayor John Klein of Menasha said the city council probably will amend the city's new plumbing ordinance, which was passed May 3.

The Neenah and Menasha ordinances require cast iron sewer and foundation drain pipe up to 10-inch size. Over that, vitrified clay may be used. Approved - type joints are required.

The Neenah ordinance was passed two months ago.

Study Text
City Atty. Charles Schaller of Neenah said he wanted to study the complete text of the supreme court's decision and the issues involved, comparing it with the Neenah ordinance, before advising what should be done about the present ordinance.

Carlton Williams, Neenah building inspector, said the cast iron pipe was required for house laterals in the new ordinance to reduce the infiltration, such as rain water, surface water and roots into the sewers and to provide a more adequate joint.

Oshkosh has had an ordinance for more than 10 years on its books requiring cast iron pipe only for house laterals. It never has been challenged, Williams said.

He indicated the present ordinance would continue in effect until the city attorney advises otherwise or an amendment is passed.

The supreme court unanimously held as unconstitutional and monopolistic, arbitrary and unreasonable, any requirement for cast iron se-

One of the dairy farmer's best customers!

DAIRY QUEEN STORES
OF MILK IN 1958!

Talk about a steady customer... that's Dairy Queen! In 1958 some 20,000 cows were on the Dairy Queen payroll, producing the 197 million pounds of whole milk used by the 3,000 Dairy Queen stores coast-to-coast. That's because it takes 16.9 gallons of whole milk at a butterfat test of 3.2 to make one ten-gallon can of Dairy Queen mix.

This was "plus" business, too, for Dairy Queen has actually created a new milk market for dairy farmers. Soft-frozen Dairy Queen has a ratio of fat to milk solids-not-fat which conforms closely to the ratio for average milk (4% fat, 9% m. s. n. f.). This means a more complete utilization of the milk used, with little or no surplus of either fat or milk solids-not-fat. Less skim milk to be disposed of, too: only 3.7 gallons per 100 gallons of milk.

Dairy Queen is prepared in a special continuous freezer which permits its delivery to you fresh from the spigot, at the very peak of its flavor. Visit the friendly Dairy Queen store near you and taste the delicious difference. Once you do, you're sure to become your own best customer!

Women Should Lead In Holiday Traffic Safety

Washington, D.C. — "Women not just the grim traffic fatalities are so conspicuously in the ally rate that casts a pall— driver's seat of the family car—even a crumpled fender can these days that they must assume special responsibility for traffic safety," Mrs. Chloe Gifford, former president of the General Federation of Women's clubs, warns.

"The family chauffeur" no longer sits in splendid isolation in front of a glass partition; as a matter of fact, she's more likely to have a bunch of bouncy children draped around her neck, which doesn't help her driving any," Miss Gifford observed. She pointed out while men may roll up the big mileage behind the wheel, it's the women who are on the go around town fetching youngsters, doing the shopping, meeting commuters.

"Take a look at the passenger cars on the streets and you'll see that it's the women who are doing the driving during the day — a large part of it through congested urban traffic," Miss Gifford observed.

Holiday Dangers
"It's pitiful that holidays have always been the most dangerous time of the year on our streets and highways. It's utes out to refresh yourself with a coffee break.

3. Be prepared for bad weather. Nothing is trickier, even for the most experienced driver than wet, slippery roads. If you cannot maintain complete control of your car at all times don't drive, especially if you have passengers. They're your responsibility.

4. Pedestrians are a particular hazard when school is out, especially young folks, letting off steam for a holiday. Drive as though someone's child is about to pop out from behind every parked car. It will take only a few seconds longer — and may save a life!

College Dance On Calendar of Country Club

Oshkosh — Among the events scheduled on the July calendar of Oshkosh Country club is a semi-formal college dance to be held July 23.

A "chuck wagon" dinner will be the Monday feature and an informal club dinner dance is scheduled for July 9. The dinner dance will be preceded by a cocktail party. An "all you can eat" dinner is slated July 15.

A "Calcutta dinner" is slated July 31.

1. Be doubly alert on downtown streets. Take time to make sure the street is clear before you pull out of a parking space. Be especially meticulous about making the proper stopping and turning signals.

2. Don't drive yourself too hard, no matter how staggering your "Do" list may look. A driver tired from a hectic day of shopping and chauffeuring can be just as accident-prone as the one who has put in long hours behind the wheel. It's a good idea, whether you're at home or planning July 30 and "Calcutta" downtown, to take a few minutes

There's More to Rose Cutting Than Length of Stem

Oshkosh — When you pick garden roses there is more to consider than how long a stem and how much foliage you want for a bouquet.

Always cut roses with a sharp knife or garden scis- sors. Breaking or twisting damages the stems and op- ens them up to disease. warns Miss Lois Klusmeyer, county home agent. Early in the season go easy on the cut- ting and be sure you do not take too long a stem and too many leaves.

When you cut rose blooms, do it according to the leaves on the stem, not the length you think you might like. Leave at least two leaves be- tween the cut and the main stem.

Roses will keep longer if cut in the late afternoon. Cut the bud just before the petals start to unfold. Clip off any flowerheads where the petals have fallen.

Draheim Hits Bureaucracy

ated, Sen. Draheim com- mented.

In answering a question whether the "blue ribbon" tax study committee report had been bogged down by pol- itics, the state senator said he did not think the adminis- tration wanted that report out yet. "They offered good reasons, such as the one on distribution of the taxes, but I don't feel that was insur- mountable. The Republicans may have done the same thing also but I don't know," he replied.

Wisconsin has always had good government and no party can take credit for that, he mentioned. That credit should go to the people in the state in sending down respon- sible legislators.

Bethel 3, St. John No. 2 1.

Menasha — St. John No. 1 moved into first place in the Menasha Church Softball league with a 4-3 win over defending champion Trinity Wednesday night at the Sixth street field.

Going into this week's play, St. John's record showed 5-1. It and St. Mary both were given losses because they failed to appear for a May 30 game.

The teams filed a joint protest and the request to replay the game was granted, thereby wiping out a loss from both their record. The game has been rescheduled for July 12.

Al Wisneski was the winning pitcher and Willy Karpopp, the loser, in Wednesday's game.

St. John broke a 2-2 tie in the sixth when Joe Koslowski belted a 2-run homer. Trinity rallied for a run in the seventh but a double play ended its uprising.

Darrell Verkuilen hit a homer for Trinity. Carl Springer cracked a double and triple for St. John.

Art Hafermann allowed three hits and struck out 11 as Bethel bested St. John No. 2 by a 9-1 count. The Rev. Frank Mintjal was the loser.

Gene Roehl had two hits for St. John, one a grand slam homer. Hafermann also had two hits.

No league games are scheduled next week. Play will resume on July 11.

Menasha — Jitter and Joe's will face Lakeview, National division leader in the Twin City Industrial league, at 7:30 p.m. Friday at Jefferson park.

Lakeview has five straight league wins and is scheduled to play the league all-stars tonight at Jefferson park. Jitter's owns an overall 2-3 mark.

The Menasha team resumes play in the Kaukauna tournament at 8 p.m. Saturday, meeting Sammy's Pizza of Appleton. It downed Bleit's of Appleton 4-2 last weekend, defeating "Bud" Werner, who tolled for Menasha teams for many seasons.

Dev Mikich Bowls Leading 502 Trio

Menasha — Dev Mikich bowled a 302 series to pace the Solar Discs Summer Women's Bowling league Monday night at the Mid-Town alleys.

Game honors went to Gloria Zimmer and Betty Nelson with 200 scores. Venus and Mars are tied for first place with 13-4 records. Two more teams are just one game out.

Three Hurlers Permit Five Hits; Victors Collect Nine

Neenah — Neenah evened its Fox River Valley league record at 3-3 with a 3-0 blanking of Winneconne in a twilight game here Wednesday. The loss was the fifth straight for the hosts.

Tom Hensen, George Steffensen and Bill Fahrerkug combined in a 5-hit shutout. Hensen worked the first five innings, allowed one hit, walked one and struck out three. Steffensen went the next two and gave up two hits while fanning two. When Steffensen developed a sore arm, Fahrerkug was dispatched to pitch the last two. He gave up two hits and struck out one.

Neenah made nine hits off Jim Raymond and Bob Olkiewicz, who relieved in the seventh. They walked two and struck out four.

Main street, soon will not signify an old time butcher shop's location.

Brothers Bernard and Alexander Beck, who succeeded their father, Nicholas, will close their meat market, a local landmark at 186 Main street, forever next week.

The shop today retains the flavor of the old time butcher shop — traces of sawdust on the wooden floor, well rounded corners on the meat cutting block, marble-topped counters.

In the shop is a canister-style coffee grinder of the type used many years ago. Whole beans placed in the hopper go through the top of the canister as ground coffee. The grocer pours the coffee into the bag through a hole in the canister's side.

The back wall of the shop is impressive: polished and varnished oak in ornate panels greet the shopper.

Make Own Sausage

The Beck brothers are among the last of the small shop operators still making their own sausage. "You pay 80 cents a pound for our bratwurst, but it's all meat. The 39-cent stuff fries away, because it's all fat," Bernard (Ben) Beck exclaimed. Before he quits making sausage he plans to put up many pounds of sausage and freeze it, much the same as a forward-looking squirrel in the summer lays aside nuts for the winter. The smokehouse for sausage stands behind the store.

The Becks' experience goes back to the time when butchers killed their own animals, dressed out the carcasses and hung them outside the front door or inside on hooks high on the wall.

In those days the shop had "wall-to-wall" refrigeration in the wintertime. As Bernard says, "the doors were wide open and we had to work in our coats and gloves."

Today, when pre-packaged meat from large packinghouses is the general rule, the Becks still cut their own from carcasses they buy.

The modern plant, efficient as it is, is costly and possibly too big for its own good. In the meat business, packinghouses generally wind up their operations with about 1 per cent of gross sales as profits.

As Ben Beck observed: "A couple of thrifty young fellows could make a lot of money if they did their own hauling and killing and cutting. But it would mean a lot of work, long hours. People don't want to work that many hours today."

The present Beck market building was built in 1893 on the same land occupied by the first Beck meat market. The elder Nicholas Beck operated City Meat Market from about 1873 to his death.

Beck took in his sons into the company, still known as N. Beck & Sons. Bernard and Alex operated their father's shop, Frank operated another, then became Menasha city treasurer, and Nicholas, Jr., went to work for the former Marathon corporation. Alex is president, Bernard secretary and treasurer and Bernard's wife, Viola, vice president.

They will begin clearing the shop's stock next week, then travel and otherwise take life easier. The Becks still own the old Beck farm, north of Midway road and near Little Lake Butte des Morts.

2 Winneconne Girls Leave Music Camp

Winneconne — Mary Luedke and Marilyn Helm, members of the Winneconne High school band and chorus, have returned from Stevens Point where they attended a music camp for two weeks.

The Rev. and Mrs. Kenneth Craig are at Camp Tamarack near Waupaca this week where he is on the staff for the senior high camp of the Wisconsin Baptist State convention.

Mrs. Helen Quigley and daughters, Kathleen, Penelope and Pamela, and Miss Christine Hillman are on a 2-weeks trip through the West.

Officers of N. Beck & Sons Meat market, a Menasha landmark since about 1873, are Bernard (Ben) Beck, secretary-treasurer, left; his wife, Viola, vice president; and Alex, president. Their shop will close and the stock will be sold beginning next week.

'Sunday You Will Be Barbecued,' Junior Chamber of Commerce members assure the chicken they are holding which will be one of many for the annual barbecue supper which will be part of the venetian festival at Riverside park in Neenah Sunday. The three Jaycees are, left to right, William Dickens; Russell Carpenter and Dan Goggin.

Barbecue to Be Feature Of Festival

Neenah — The Jaycees will repeat one of the popular events of former Venetian festivals by staging a chicken barbecue again this weekend.

The barbecue will be from 4 to 7 p.m. Sunday at the Riverside park pavilion. In the event of rain it will be held on Monday as part of the July 4 Venetian festival celebration.

Halves of chickens are placed over huge pits of charcoal and cooked to a golden brown. Potato chips, cole slaw, milk or coffee and ice creams are added to this meal sold by the Jaycees.

Profits from the chicken barbecue sales are used for various Jaycee civic projects for the coming year.

Tickets for the barbecue will be on sale at booths set up in all the banks Friday or can be purchased from Jaycee members or at the park on the day of the barbecue.

Pipe Ruling May Require City Changes

Milwaukee Test
Drechsler said a 1958 Milwaukee city and metropolitan sewerage commissions' rule banning bituminous fibre pipe was in excess of commission powers.

Testimony in the Milwaukee court showed at least $109.50 could be saved per house by using bituminous pipe for sewer laterals.

Drechsler added that the commissions' rule would require cast iron pipe be used in corrosive soils and fill materials common in the Milwaukee area.

The circuit judge said the rule was monopolistic because "it does not allow a pipe of material which is equivalent or which is suitable for conditions in which cast iron is not suitable."

If the rule had provided exceptions to cast iron pipe where area conditions warranted, the supreme court said, the rule would have been held valid.

After the 1958 Milwaukee rule was adopted by the two commissions, five bituminous pipe manufacturers obtained a temporary injunction against the rule from Judge Drechsler. The judge ruled for them in spring 1959, when the case was tried.

Late July Called Period When Elm Wilting Appears

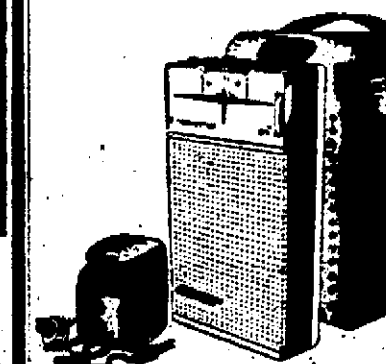

Oshkosh — County Agent Vernon W. Peroutky pointed out today that late July and August is the period when elm trees may show wilting or leaf discoloration.

When an entire limb wilts, the property owner should take fresh cuttings, about six or eight of them, off the wilted limb. The cuttings should be the size of a wooden clothes pin.

These then should be put in a small plastic bag and sealed and then brought to the county extension office at the courthouse for testing for Dutch elm disease.

Southside Pool Construction To Start in Next Two Weeks

Construction of Appleton's heating and ventilating, $10,000, new southside swimming pool is scheduled to start in about two weeks, says Director of Public Works Edwin Duszynski.

Contracts for the four phases of work on the $360,000 pool were signed today by Mayor Clarence Mitchell and City Clerk Elden Broehm.

Duszynski said Hoffman Construction company, Appleton, which has the general construction contract, plans to start in a week or two. It received the contract on a low bid of $191,900.

Will Hold 1,000

Specifications for the pool say it will accommodate 1,000 swimmers at one time.

The main swimming area of the "T" shaped pool will be 164 by 57 feet. The diving pool will be 40 by 40, and there will be beginners and wading pools 20 by 20 each.

Provision for landscaping will be made next year after it is completed.

Other contractors are Up-town Electric, Waupaca, electrical work, $28,000; R. Wenzel company, plumbing, $78,900; and Wenzel Bros., Inc.,

To this must be added nearly $54,000 for various fees and contingencies, and some of the cost of relocating a ball diamond eliminated by the pool.

Jay Earns Starting Berth, Gives Braves Split With Chicago

Joe Adcock Homers Twice as Milwaukee Wins Nightcap, 3-1

Chicago —(AP)— Joey Jay, run off Jay in the third when the Milwaukee Braves' big 24-year-old right-hander, appears to have earned a regular starting berth.

Jay Adcock

Jay starting berth after spending most of his time this season in the bullpen and in relief.

Jay held the Chicago Cubs to seven scattered hits Wednesday as his mates came through with three home runs to earn a 3-1 victory in the second game of a doubleheader after the Braves dropped the first game, 3-2.

The split enabled the Braves to remain 2½ games behind the National league-leading Pittsburgh Pirates who were rained out.

Third Start
The game was only Jay's third start of the season and gave him a 2-2 record. Ernie Banks got three of the hits off Jay and the only extra base blow — a double. Jay walked five and struck out six.

Manager Charlie Dressen said after the game he would use Jay in a regular starting rotation now.

"That guy's really strong," Dressen said.

Big Joe Adcock got two of the homers for Milwaukee to run his record to 11 for the year while Hank Aaron got the other 4-base blow, his eighteenth of the year in the Braves' 5-hit attack off Bob Anderson and Don Elston. Anderson was the loser and now is 2-5 for the season. The Cubs scored their only run off Jay in the third when Banks doubled with one out. The Chicago shortstop completed the trip on Ed Bouchee's infield out and a sharp single to center by Bob Will.

In the first game it was a case of "good pitch-no-hit" for the Braves. They could get only five hits in this game.

Basilio Goes Into Rage When Fight Is Stopped in 12th

BY JERRY O'BRIEN

Salt Lake City, Utah —(AP)— The National Boxing association, world middleweight crown was still in Gene Fullmer's hands today after he stopped challenger Carmen Basilio in 2:54 of the twelfth round in a bruising battle Wednesday night.

Fullmer's manager, Marv Jensen, today dismissed Basilio as a contender and said he has a $100,000 offer for his battler to meet Joey Giambra next.

Jensen said matchmaker Benny Ford made the big-money bid for a Fullmer-Giambra match in San Francisco and that fights with Paul Pender or Ray Robinson were possible.

Pushes Referee
Basilio, enraged when the fight was stopped, pushed the referee, threatened to punch him and claimed he was the victim of a home-town decision.

Fullmer, the 29-year-old West Jordan, Utah, mink rancher, was in charge from the beginning and was ahead on every card when the end came. Judge Del Markham and Referee Pete Giacoma had Fullmer ahead 108-102, Judge Bob Yocum saw it 109-101 and The Associated Press 108-101.

In winning the nationally televised bout, Fullmer extended his record to 52 victories. He has lost three and had one draw. Basilio is 54-15-7.

Basilio weighed 150½, the heaviest of his career, Fullmer 159½.

Angry Blasts
Basilio, both eyes cut, his face swollen and wicked-looking welts on his body, delivered himself of some angry blasts at everyone connected with the fight when it was over. He excepted Fullmer. "Gene and I are good friends, but this Utah Athletic commission belongs to Jensen," he charged.

"And that referee. He never should have stopped it. He

Bill Forester, Bettis Sign 1960 Contracts

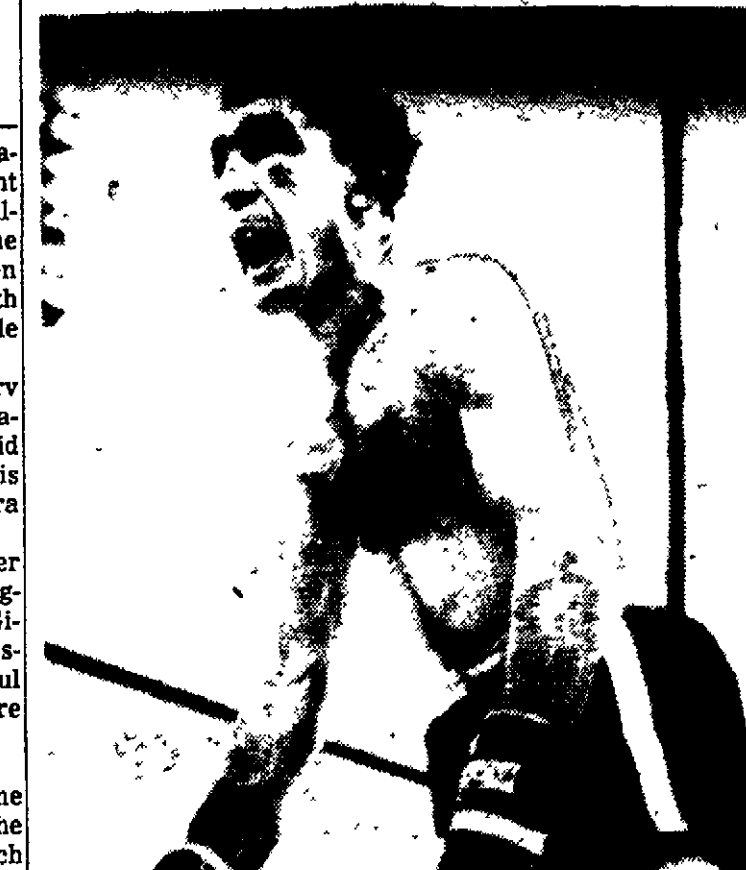

Green Bay —(AP)— Veteran linebackers Bill Forester and Tom Bettis have signed their contracts for the 1960 National Football league season, the Green Bay Packers announced Wednesday.

Forester was the Packers' third draft selection in 1953 after starring at Southern Methodist. He is entering his eighth year.

Bettis has been a regular linebacker for the Packers for five years. A former Purdue standout, he was Green Bay's top pick in the 1955 player draft.

The stoppage came six seconds before the end of the round.

Judge Deals NFL Another Big Setback

Frees Robinson To Play for Dallas in AFL

New Orleans —(AP)— Half-back Johnny Robinson of Louisiana State has his freedom today from the Detroit Lions after a court battle that a judge called "another round in the sordid fight" for football talent.

Federal Dist. Judge J. Skelly Wright ruled Wednesday an agreement the ace LSU runner and pass catcher signed with the Lions Dec. 2 was not a binding contract.

This left Robinson free to play with Dallas of the new American Football league, a team he signed a contract with after playing in the Sugar bowl last New Year's day. Detroit sought a court order to stop Robinson from playing for anyone else.

The ruling dealt the National Football league another severe setback, its third in as many weeks.

Released Cannon
A federal judge in Los Angeles released All-America halfback Billy Cannon, Robinson's running mate for three years at LSU from a Los Angeles Rams' contract, and last week Judge Claude Clayton, in Oxford, Miss., ruled the New York Giants had no legal hold in its agreement with All-America full-back Charlie Flowers of Mississippi.

The fight for talent, Wright said in his written decision, "begins before these athletes enter college and follows them throughout their professional careers."

And this battle, he continued, has conditioned the minds and hearts of the athletes involved "to repudiate an agreement the following day or when a better offer comes along."

Yesterday's Stars

Pitching
Jim Coates, Yankees, allowed just three singles, walked two and struck out six for his thirteenth consecutive victory. Ninth this season, in 10-0 decision over the A's.

Foxes Pad League Lead By Beating Burlington Twice

Gillick and Symeon Hurl 5-Hit Wins

BY JOHN L. PAUSTIAN

Post-Crescent Sports Editor

Whoever would have thought that the Fox Cities Foxes' pitching staff, which was cuffed around for 50 runs in the opening three games of 1960, could become the scourge of the Three-I league at mid-season?

Yet, that's exactly what has happened — as southpaw Pat Gillick and right-hander Chuck Symeon again demonstrated here Wednesday night in propelling the first-place Foxes to a pair of 5-hit victories over Burlington.

13 Out of 14

Gillick eased past the Bees, 6-1, in the 7-inning opener for his fifth straight victory (to go with one loss), while Symeon (5-2) threw an 11-strikeout "gasser" at the visitors for his fourth straight win in the 4-2 afterpiece of the twin bill.

The high-stepping Foxes, who have reeled off three straight wins and 13 in their last 14 outings, took advantage of runnerup Sioux City's loss to lengthen their lead to 3½ games. In their remarkable doubleheader log, the Foxes have now recorded six sweeps and three splits.

The twin bill-minded Foxes will play a pair for the fifth time in eight days tonight when Cedar Rapids visits Goodland field. John Papa, the winningest Fox (6-3), will hurl one of the games, with relief specialist Jim Lehigh (5-4) penciled in for the other — as he is due to get his first starting assignment since May 7. Game starts at 6:30.

If the Foxes hadn't stranded 26 men in their 14 innings of offense last night, Gillick and Symeon would have had a far easier time extending the staff's tidy complete-game record to 12 in the last 15 starts and an excellent 29-for-57 for the entire season.

Chief Batting Support

Pete Ward and Cal Ripken provided the two hurlers with their chief batting support. Ward jacked his average up to a glowing .369 with two doubles and a home run in five trips, plus four walks.

Ripken, a catcher who filled in as an efficient right fielder, went 5 - for-6 (plus three walks) to hoist his mark to .336.

In the first game, the Bees buzzed off to a 1-run lead when Roberto Sanchez walked in the second inning, moved up on Larry Fidalgo's single and Bill Jackson's sacrifice and scored on an infield out.

The Foxes tied it in their half of the second frame on an error, Ray Youngdahl's infield hit, a base-filling walk to Jim Carver and a run-scoring walk to Gillick.

Ward Doubles

Ward started the tie-breaking rally in the third with a double to right. Ripken and "Photti" Anthony walked to fill the bases. Lefty Jack Kelly, the starter and loser,

Topeka Ends Losing Streak Against Soos

Reds Win, 6-5; Dodgers Cop Pair Before 1,714

By The Associated Press

Second-place Sioux City's mastery over Topeka came to an end in the Three-I league Wednesday night.

The Reds defeated the Soos, 6-5, ending their losing streak against Sioux City at nine games. The loss dropped the Soos 3½ games behind Fox Cities, which won a doubleheader from Burlington.

Virg Bernhard was the Soos' whole show, driving in all five runs against Topeka. John Werhas socked a twelfth-inning home run to give last-place Green Bay an 8-7 victory over Cedar Rapids and a sweep of their twin bill. Green Bay won the opener, 3-1. Attendance was 1,714, on "Little League night" at Joannes park.

Lincoln defeated Des Moines, 6-5, as Al Madigan scored his third victory in the last week. He had a 2-hitter and a 6-1 margin before weakening in the eighth. Reliever Dan Osinski stopped a Demon rally in the ninth to preserve the triumph.

Lindy McDaniel Notches 14th 'Save' of Year

Cardinals Return To Fourth Place; Dodgers Win Pair

By The Associated Press

No one's calling the St. Louis Cardinals cheap, you understand, but they set aside just one locker in the clubhouse for more than half of their pitching staff. It's the one with Lindy McDaniel's name on it.

The lean right-hander has figured in 17 of their 33 victories—saving 14 and winning three. And he's streaking along with an 0.64 earned run average, allowing just three runs in 42 1-3 innings of relief.

Back in Fourth Place

The one-time $50,000 bonus kid hung up his seventh consecutive save Wednesday night, nailing rookie Ray Sadecki's second major league victory in a 5-2 decision over Cincinnati that put the Cards back in fourth place in the National league race.

The second-place Milwaukee Braves, 2½ games out of the lead, split a doubleheader with the Chicago Cubs. First-place Pittsburgh and San Francisco were rained out.

Los Angeles tied Cincinnati for fifth place by sweeping Philadelphia, 6-3 and 5-2, in a two-night doubleheader.

Stan Musial, bouncing back from the bench after a long slump singled home the Cards' first two runs in the third off loser Jay Hook (8-7). Frank Howard hit his tenth homer and drove in three runs for the Dodgers in the first game, driving in the winner in a 2-run eighth with his second single. Larry Sherry (8-4) won it in relief of Don Drysdale. Dick Farrell (5-2) was the loser in relief.

Winner Sandy Koufax (3-8) and reliever Ed Roebuck held the Phils to four hits in the second game. A 4-run, fourth beat Gene Conley (3-4). Johnny Roseboro singled the winning run across after Norm Larker extended his hitting streak to 14 games with a 2-run single.

The four Dodger pitchers, who stopped Pancho Herrera's hit streak at 20 games, fanned 24, tying the major league record for a doubleheader.

Olympic Trials Start Friday At Stanford

Stanford, Calif. —(AP)— "Competition here will be the best it ever has been. It has to be. Every other country will be better with only one or two exceptions," said Larry Snyder, coach of the United States Olympic track and field team, on the eve of the trials that will fashion his squad.

Friday and Saturday, at the Stanford stadium, crowds totaling 75,000 will watch the nation's top track stars vie for the coveted spots on the U.S. team.

Snyder, Ohio State coach, voiced approval of the U.S. system of elimination meets. "Each year a new generation is making the old timers either do better or step aside." It's this competition, he feels, that will continue U.S. domination of world track and field.

Stigman Pitches Indians Past Orioles Into Second Place

more games. They're 15 games back of first-place New York. The Indians trail by two.

The Yankees stayed with it by whipping Kansas City 10-0 as Roger Maris belted two more home runs and Jim Coates won his thirteenth straight, nine this season, with a 3-hitter.

Last-place Boston defeated Detroit, 4-2. Chicago's game at Washington was rained out.

2-Run Single
Stigman, who beat the Birds and Jerry Walker (2-1) with a 2-run single in the fourth inning, now has a 4-4 record — 3-1 as a starter.

Coates, getting his usual support from the Yankees, put away the first low-hit game and second shutout of his somewhat fantastic 15-1 major league career. He walked two, struck out six and allowed nothing but singles.

Clete Boyer also homered for the Yankees, who have scored 104 runs in Coates' 12 starts this season — an average of almost nine runs a game. Both of Maris' homers, each with a man on, came off Ray Herbert (3-8) and upped his major league leading total to 24. He also leads the AL with 62 runs batted in.

Two-run homers by Ted Williams and Russ Nixon ended Boston's latest losing string at five and handed Jim Bunning his fifth defeat in 10 decisions. Williams socked the 504th homer of his career and twelfth of the season in the first inning, then singled ahead of Nixon's winning home run in the sixth.

Bill Monbouquette (7-7) was the winner.

Washington, Jarus Sign With Browns

Cleveland — (AP) — The Cleveland Browns have announced that three more rookies have signed contracts with the professional football club for the 1960 season.

They are fullback Bob Jarus and halfback Clyde Washington, both of Purdue university who were drafted by the Browns last November, and halfback Jamie Caleb of Grambling college, who was drafted the previous year but had a year of college eligibility remaining.

Jarus, a fifth round draft choice, was the first string fullback at Purdue the last three seasons.

Washington, drafted in the tenth round, is a prospective defensive halfback for the Browns and a good punter.

Caleb is a candidate for offensive halfback.

Miller '9' Posts 5-0 BRL Win

Miller Electric blasted Fox River Tractor, 5-0, on LeRoy Kiepe's 3-hitter in the Babe Ruth league Wednesday at Plamann park.

Kiepe fanned four and walked five in going the 7-inning route. Loser Ted Olsen yielded eight hits and fanned seven, walking two. Mike Cass slugged two doubles and a single for the victors.

Golfer Gets Bird and Bogey on Same Hole

Eureka, Ill. — (AP) — Golfer Gordon Linn got a bird and a bogey on the same hole at Kufman park golf course.

Linn's fifth hole drive Tuesday hit a sparrow flying across the course. That stopped the ball about 150 yards out and he had to take a stroke over par to finish the hole. The sparrow was killed.

could see the handwriting on the wall.

Did he mean he would have won had the fight continued? "Sure," he snapped.

Basilio might have been hard pressed to find many in the crowd of 10,500 who would agree.

The battered ex-champion from Crittenango, N.Y., was obviously hurt by heavy Fullmer lefts to the body and right shots to the face. Bleeding, reeling around and holding on in the twelfth, it appeared the end was near, one way or another.

Had Enough
Referee Giacomo of suburban Murray, Utah, who was working his first big fight, decided Basilio had had enough and stopped it.

As early as the end of the first round Fullmer had raised welts on Basilio's body. Carmen's face was red and started to swell by the third.

Both fighters sustained eye cuts that bled freely in the middle rounds. Jensen was able to patch up Fullmer but Basilio's damage worsened.

There were no knockdowns, but in the eighth Fullmer crashed into Basilio as he was lying away and Carmen went flat on his back, came up on his shoulder, then back on his feet again like a seasoned tumbler.

Fullmer, scarcely marked, told reporters he was surprised at Carmen's "lack of aggressiveness." Basilio saw it another way: "He (Fullmer) didn't want to make a fight of it."

2 Teams Tie for June Handicap Title at BDM

Two teams tied for the Butte des Morts Golf club's June handicap tournament title.

The Otto Sherry - Ken Ward and Jim Gustman-Dr. Don Kasten duos each carded a low net best-ball score of 61. This is the first time the tournament was played on a 2-man best-ball basis. There were 56 entries.

In a 3-way tie for third place net 66s, were the Bill Schleisner - Bob Winkler, Harold Sherry - O. G. Koller and the Harold Schew - Norb Verbrick teams.

struck out John Powell and Youngdahl but hit Carver with an errant pitch. Ward scored. Gillick got his second straight bases — full walk (and RBI) to make it 3-1.

plied the key blow, a bases-full single.

Burlington put one man on the paths in each of the last five innings, but the snappy Gillick had the answer every time. The strong left-hander struck out four, walked three and didn't permit an extra-base hit.

In the second game, history repeated when Burlington took a 1-run lead in the second inning. This time, first baseman Bill Jackson powered a Symeon pitch far over the left field fence for his sixth homer of the season.

Ripken, Powell Single
The Foxes waited until the third inning before taking a permanent lead on Bob Priddy, a hard-pumping right-hander, who absorbed the loss. With one out, Ward walked, and Ripken and Powell looped singles to left to fill the bases. Youngdahl's sacrifice fly tied the score. Priddy balked to permit the tie-breaker to cross the plate.

In the fourth, Ripken singled off the third baseman's glove for a run after swifties Frank Montgomery and Bob Saverine had beaten out bunts and Ward had walked.

Burlington narrowed the gap to 3-2 in the seventh on Sanchez' triple and a wild pitch.

Ward wrapped up the scoring in the eighth when he boomed a home run over the right field barrier off lefty reliever Gary Aldrich. It was Pete's fifth round-tripper of the season (tying him with Bert Barth for the team lead) but first one at home.

Priddy, a converted outfielder, whiffed 13 batters in only seven innings. Walks — 10 of them — kept him in almost constant trouble, though. Symeon walked only two.

FOX TALES — Fox Cities will lose part of its pitching wealth Friday when Bert Barth (4-1, with a 1.32 ERA) leaves for Vancouver, of the Pacific Coast league, for a shot at Triple-A ball. Reliever Dick Hunt is ready to return to action. Gillick is still at it: he picked Ed Montgomery off first base in the first inning—his slick motion has taken its toll on the opposition in almost every game he's worked. Saverine made the play of the night—and possibly of the season—in the second inning of the second game when he backhanded Ron Brand's hard smash in the hole between third and short and released the ball off balance in time to get his man.

Umpire Fred Blandford cleared the Burlington bench in the bottom of the sixth of the first game when the Bees were riding him a bit too much.

Clintonville, New London Legions Win

New London, Clintonville and Mayville captured Fox Valley Legion league victories Wednesday night.

New London (2-4) posted a 9-8 Northern division victory over Appleton (1-5) to escape the cellar. F. Harold and Mike Herres divided hurling duties for the victors, with Herres getting the win in relief.

Jerry Loberger, the loser, yielded eight hits, struck out 13 and walked four.

Clintonville (4-1) blasted Sturgeon Bay (3-2) by a 13-3 score in a Northern division contest that was limited to seven innings because of its 1-sided nature. Kulim was the winning hurler, allowing six hits.

Mayville (5-1) edged Kaukauna (0-4) by a 4-3 count. Henricks picked up the win and Frank was the loser.

and seldom put any of them together.

Young Ron Pichie, working in relief of starter Bob Buhl, took the Milwaukee's defeat, his third against one victory.

Altman Doubles

It was a 2-2 standoff when George Altman doubled to open the ninth. Ron Santo was intentionally walked before Adcock turned Don Zimmer's bunt into a force of Altman at third. Will then followed with his game-winning hit that scored Santo.

The Cubs scored their first run in the opening inning without hitting the ball out of the infield. Richie Ashburn walked and stole second. After Felix Mantilla fell down catching Danny Murphy's high pop fly, Ashburn moved to third and scored on Banks' infield out.

Milwaukee tied the score in the third when Mantilla led off with a single and stole second. Billy Bruton walked after two were out and Johnny Logan came through with a single that scored Mantilla. Eddie Mathews then walked to load the bases but Ellsworth got Aaron to fly out.

In the fourth, Banks singled, moved to third on Bouchee's one base blow and scored when Altman forced Bouchee. Milwaukee rebounded to tie the score, 2-2, in the eighth as pinch-hitter Alvin Dark, walked. Bruton singled, sending Dark to second and the veteran infielder completed the tour on Logan's force of Bruton and Mathews' infield out.

Home Mutual and SSAC Both Post 1-Sided Shutouts

South Side Athletic club and Home Mutual romped in 1-sided Appleton Little League Eastern division shutouts. SSAC blanked Northside Advancement, 17-0, Tuesday on a 2-hitter by Krueger. He struck out 11 and walked seven. Joseph socked three hits for the victors.

Home Mutual downed Breakfast Optimists, 14-0, on Eichinger's 1-hitter, Wednesday. The only hit off him was J. Wendt's triple. Vaubel totaled three singles for SSAC. Home Mutual scored twelve runs in the fifth.

Laver, Fraser Meet in Finals At Wimbledon

Wimbledon, England —(AP)— World famous tennis authorities looked today at the failure of America's stars in the Wimbledon championships — and said Uncle Sam has nothing to worry about.

For the first time in living memory, no Americans reached the semifinals of either the men's or women's singles.

"But why panic over that?" said Fred Perry, three-times Wimbledon champion of the thirties who has coached youngsters in the United States.

"No one can be on top all the time. But the Americans have thousands of young players who are capable of developing into top class. There's nothing wrong with American tennis that a little luck and hard work won't cure."

Adrian Quist, Australian team manager, also brushed aside the idea that American tennis is on the decline.

Juniors Stronger

Quist said "At the junior level, their men are stronger than ours."

The final of the men's singles Friday will be an all-Australian clash. Rod Laver, the red-haired left-hander who was defeated by Peruvian Alex Olmedo in last year's final, will tangle with Neale Fraser.

Today, reigning women's Champion Maria Bueno of Brazil faces her toughest test when she meets Britain's Christine Truman in the semi-finals.

The top-seeded Fraser smashed India's frozen-faced Ramanathan Krishnan, 6-3, 6-2, 6-2. Laver, 22, blew both hot and cold in eliminating Italy's Nicola Pietrangeli, 4-6, 6-3, 8-10, 6-2, 6-4.

Bob Hewitt and Mike Muligan, a pair of 19-year-old Australians, eliminated the last U.S. men's doubles team, Barry MacKay and Ron Holmberg, 7-5, 5-7, 11-9, 6-4.

Dressen Feels Braves' Future Should be More Clear by July 4

Club Will Have Played 3 Twin Bills In 6-Day Period

Chicago —(AP)— Chipper Charlie Dressen thinks that by July 4, a traditional date for die-casting in baseball, his second-place Milwaukee Braves may know whether smoother pennant-hunting will be ahead.

"We'll then have completed three doubleheaders in six days and that will tell whether our pitching will be set for things to come," said the Milwaukee skipper.

The Braves Wednesday split

a twin bill (2-3, 3-1) with the last-place Chicago Cubs. They have another brace with the Cardinals in St. Louis Friday night. But the really big doubleheader ahead is the July 4 pair with the pacesetting Pittsburgh Pirates in Milwaukee.

Get Through Mess

"If we can get through that mess without stripping our pitching gear, we may be okay," said Dressen. "After that, I can come in with any one of our starting pitchers as relievers."

He was referring to Braves front-liners of potential starters, like Warren Spahn, Lew Burdette, Bob Buhl, Joey Jay, Carlton Willey, George Brunet and Jaun Pizarro.

Dressen, who skipped from the Los Angeles Dodgers coaching box to the Milwaukee helm this season, is satisfied with the way the Braves have jelled to date.

"It's true Hank Aaron hasn't been hitting for a month, but somebody or other has been filling the bill when we need it," said Dressen. "Take Wes Covington — he's been hitting good, and we've got Ed Mathews, Bill Bruton and Joe Adcock going over .300."

No Collapse

Dressen isn't looking for any Pirate collapse. "They have been belting that ball too long and too good to discount them as a real pennant contender," said Dressen. "San Francisco has been disappointing. I thought they really would be tough with that lineup and that bolstered pitching staff."

Dressen spoke kindly of his old Los Angeles club which has foundered badly. "I can't understand it, they played ball well against us," he said.

Manager Lou Boudreau, whose Cubs wind up a 4-game set with the Braves today,

Convicted of Trying to Bribe Ball Player

Philadelphia —(AP)— A former cafe operator has been convicted of offering Philadelphia Phillies' pitcher Humberto Robinson $1,500 to lose a game last year.

Baseball observers believed it was the first time someone outside baseball was convicted of attempting to bribe a major league player.

A jury deliberated less than 30 minutes Wednesday before returning the verdict against Harold "Boomy" Friedman, 42, a former partner in the Moon Glo cafe.

Defers Sentence

Judge Ethan Allen Doty of common pleas court deferred sentencing after defense counsel made a motion for a new trial.

Robinson, 31-year-old righthander was the principal prosecution witness. He testified Friedman made the offer the night before Sept. 22 when Robinson was scheduled to pitch the second game of a two-night doubleheader against Cincinnati.

He said Friedman, whom he had known since 1955, approached him in the hotel where he was living and told him he wanted to bet on the second game.

"If you want to bet that's up to you," Robinson said he told Friedman.

"Well, there's $1,500 in it for you," Robinson quoted Friedman as telling him.

Robinson said he answered: "I like baseball too much. I don't want any part of it."

Friedman denied offering the bribe. He said he approached Robinson to ask him what game he was pitching the next day so he wouldn't miss it.

Romans are Beginning To Wonder if Olympics Are Worth the Trouble

Water Shortage, Traffic Snarls, Cause Problems

Rome —(AP)— Many Romans are beginning to wonder if the Olympics are worth all the trouble.

For three days recently most of them were without water.

For months traffic has been snarled, and the chances are it will get worse before it gets better.

Their desire to put on a good show — and avoid any embarrassing predicaments — is at the root of the second thoughts.

For example, Rome faced a possible water shortage at the height of the games — in torrid August — because of the demands for water at the Olympic Village and the Olympic swimming pools.

So the water company rushed completion of its new plant. Several days ago all water was turned off for two days while the company switched from the old system to the new one.

Were Breakdowns

Then water was off an extra day because of breakdowns in the new system.

Automobile traffic is another headache. For months streets have been torn up as city authorities repaved and widened them, and built underpasses. Officials said Rome's traffic was bad enough, and that the expected Olympic traffic made the repairs a necessary nuisance.

Last week the experts grappling with the traffic problem launched a new system of 1-way streets around Piazza Venezia in central Rome. Traffic was more jammed than ever. Now they plan to modify the 1-way streets and experiment some more.

Even the store owners are beginning to wonder, August is normally a big tourist month. But some store owners fear the heavy spending tourists will be driven away from Rome by the Olympic crowds, leaving behind a lower spending tourist bent on devoting all his energy and funds to Olympic events rather than shopping.

Braley Resigns From Arena Post

Offers to Quit Aug. 1, but Committee Demands July 1

Post-Crescent News Service
Green Bay — Jocko Braley, Veterans Memorial arena manager, offered his resignation effective Aug. 1 to the county board arena committee Wednesday night, but the committee voted to end Braley's paid county employment July 1.

The committee recommendation will go to a special session of the board at 8 p. m. tonight. The committee will propose that Braley be suspended without pay for July and remain suspended until Aug. 1, when his resignation will be accepted.

This method of dismissing Braley was selected after the committee first voted unanimously to ask the board to fire Braley. In his letter of resignation, Braley offered to stay on until Aug. 1, or later, to help in the transition to a new manager.

The committee also made these recommendations:
1. To abolish the non-civil service position of arena skating pro, occupied by John Carlow.

2. To require arena contracts to be submitted to the arena committee for examination, be sent to the corporation counsel for legal examination, and to be signed by the county clerk like any other county contract.

3. To advertise for proposals for private operation of arena concessions in order to make it possible to make a comparison with the profit record of operation by the county.

Braley did not attend the meeting. His letter of resignation had been delivered in a sealed envelope to the court house Wednesday afternoon. Braley offered the resignation as of Aug. 1 or a reasonable time later because of "a great many things that may have to be considered between the time I may leave as manager and a new manager is installed."

The committee reaction was that there was no point in keeping Braley on the payroll for another month because he would not be consulted in hiring a new manager and would make no contracts during the next month.

"I don't think there is anything he can help us with in the next month. I think it is clear from the (state) audit and his own statements that the job is too big for him," said Supv. Leonard Jahn. Spv. Don Tilleman said the

Democrat Quotes Rep. Byrnes In Debate With Sen. Proxmire

Post-Crescent Washington Bureau
Washington — Sen. Harry Byrd of Virginia, one of the senate's highest ranking Democrats—Tuesday departed from party ranks and read a communication from R. P. John W. Byrnes, Green Bay Republican, in an effort to refute arguments of Wisconsin's Democratic Sen. William Proxmire over a tax measure.

Proxmire had taken the floor of the senate during debate on the conference report on the tax rate extension act of 1960 to ask that an amendment be added removing the current tax exemption on dividends.

Byrd objected and told Proxmire that it consisted of double-taxation.

Adopt Report
Byrd quoted a statement from Congressman Byrnes, a member of the senate-house conference committee on the tax measure. Byrnes' statement said, in part, "the par-credit against the double taxation of corporate business income paid out in dividends was provided by the congress as a matter of considered tax policy. "It should not be taken away from the more than 12 million shareholders, about 75 per cent of whom are in the under-$10,000 per year income category." Sen. Byrd suggested that if Proxmire desired any further information on the matter, "he can take it up with his own colleague, Rep. Byrnes."

"What Expected?"
Proxmire replied: "Byrnes is chairman of the Republican policy committee of the house, and an able and vigorous spokesman for the Republican high command. What he said is exactly what you would expect of John Byrnes."

The senate adopted the conference report on a vote of 61 to 32, without the amendment removing a rate of tax exemption on dividends.

So on, and occasionally we find small seed-like particles in the appendix. These are called fecoliths, or hardened particles of the stool. These might be responsible for starting inflammation, but remember that many times they are not present, so appendicitis must have other causes.

By and large, small seeds (grape, orange pits, etc.) pass through the intestine unchanged. The covering of the seed usually is too hard to allow it to digest; hence there's no food value for practical purposes, although there might be a little inside.

Father Says Trio Attacked His Son

The father of a 13-year-old Appleton boy told police today his son was beaten by three youths near an ice cream stand at Oneida and Calumet streets last night.

The boy, Tom Running, 118 E. Calumet street, said he and a friend were at the ice cream stand when they saw a car containing three boys and two girls start to back up. When it appeared the car was about to hit another one, the boy said, he yelled at the driver.

The car stopped, he said, and the three youths chased the two boys down the street where they hit him in the mouth and pushed him to the ground.

Kaukauna — A desperate fifth and final inning rally by Brenzel's Old Timers fell a run short as Smith's Colts won an 8-7 decision in the annual Thilco Quarter Century softball game.

The Colts built up an early 8-2 lead, only to see the Old Timers rally for five runs in the final frame before stemming the rally to gain the win. The winners managed 11 hits off the hurling of Harvey Coenen with Clayton Kiffie and Ed Misilinski each going three for three and Ray Diedrich getting two blows for the winners.

The Old Timers managed eight hits off the slants of Les Smith with Jack Verbeten, Joe Vils and Fred Luedke each registering two not clear. In acute appendicitis, we know that the organ is highly inflamed, and umpiring chores and Carl

BY CAPPY DICK
A string-of-fish belt is a novelty boys and girls will have fun making and wearing. It requires no sewing or braiding and can be made from small scraps of real leather or imitation leather. The fish are cut to the shape shown in Figure 2, then are linked together as in Figure 4.

First make a paper pattern (Figure 1). Cut a strip of paper an inch and a half wide and five and a quarter inches long. Fold it in half. On one half, outline the shape of a fish as in Figure 1. From the folded edge to the tip of the nose the fish should be two and five-eighths inches long and, at the widest part, an inch and a half wide. Cut a slit five-eighths of an inch long, 1/1000 and Martin Weyers, 164 Raught street, will change and enclose a basement entrance at a cost of $300.

Lay the opened pattern on a piece of thin, pliable leather or imitation leather and outline it with pencil. Cut the leather with scissors. Prepare a dozen of these double fish, then start linking them together. Figure 3 shows how. Pass one end of a fish through the slits in the two ends of another fish.

Open a third fish and pass it through the slits of the second fish. Continue doing this, adding a new fish each time, until the belt is long enough to go around your waist.

To fasten the belt, put the tail of the first fish through the slits of the last fish, forming a natural buckle.

Public Talks Much But Ignores Polls

In the next 30 days, just in the world, have one of the about every adult who can read a newspaper, listen to the radio or look at TV will be talking about the national conventions — but if the record of past Presidential elections is repeated, a discouragingly low percentage will bother to cast their ballots Nov. 8.

We, the leading democracy

Porter

By contrast, in England, the normal turnout is 70 per cent and frequently rises above 80 per cent. In Germany more than 75 per cent usually vote.

In Belgium, where penalties for non-voting are enforced, abstentions haven't been higher than 7.5 per cent since 1893.

The Penalties for non-voting have also helped high election turnout in Switzerland, Austria, New Zealand and Holland.

Companies Encourage Voting

encourage their employees to vote. What is being done by industry this year to better our record?

A study of election policies and practices in 154 companies by the Dartnell corporation of Chicago indicates that only 24 per cent of the companies surveyed are doing "nothing" to spur voting — a fat minority but still a minority.

The most important step is allowing time off to vote, and 58 per cent of the companies are given some time off compared to 50 per cent in 1956.

Of those having a time-off policy, 19 per cent are giving a full day with pay, 17 per cent are giving pay for voting time, 11 per cent are giving two hours off with pay and another 11 per cent are giving one hour off with pay. A provocative sidelight is that office employees are being treated more leniently than plant workers.

Special Feature

Other moves are: bulletin board announcements, 22 per cent; house-organ special features, 25 per cent; general letters to employees, 6 per cent; supervisory discussions, 5 per cent and posters and special bulletins or booklets, 8 per cent. Some companies are running voting essay contests, passing out literature with paychecks and sending special letters.

Only 44 per cent think get-out-the-vote campaigns are effective. A Cleveland corporation executive says, "The paid time off will definitely be an aid to getting out the vote," while an Omaha, Neb., executive says it's "just an extra hour's pay without working."

Going over its survey results, Dartnell doesn't find them especially impressive. It notes some increased efforts to get out the vote, but also notes many concerns just pay lip service to the idea.

Perhaps, this report will spur you into weighing what is being done in your own office or plant to get out the vote. Maybe it will remind you that you'll be mocking all the excitement and meaning of the July conventions and election campaign if you don't go to the polls in November.

New Whey Processing Plant Has Air Purifier, Scrubber

Western Condensing Provides for Cleaner Product, Dust Control

An electrostatic air cleaner and a water operated air scrubber are designed to insure sanitary conditions and dust control at Western Condensing company's new $250,000 edible whey processing plant.

The electrostatic cleaner, composed of thousands of positively and negatively charged fine metal plates, collects dust and impurities from air in the intake system on the first floor.

The air scrubber, enclosed in a housing on the roof, will collect whey dust in air discharged through the exhaust system. Whey dust from the John street plant has been a neighborhood problem for years, but the company hopes it will be almost solved now.

Purer Product

H. L. Pollard, general production manager for all the firm's plants, says the electrostatic cleaner will insure a purer product. By cleansing the air which comes into contact with liquid whey in the dryers, the powder is cleaner and more sanitary, he says.

The cleaner operates on 13,000 volts and is enclosed in a separate room with automatic electric locks on the doors. When doors are opened the current shuts off. About 30,000 cubic feet of air a minute goes through the cleaner.

In the scrubber, used air is washed by a centrifugal spray of water before discharge into the air.

Newly designed equipment in the plant will produce 4,000 pounds of edible whey an hour, double the present plant capacity. All equipment was designed by the firm and is tailor-made for specific jobs.

A shake-down run of all equipment will be conducted and it is hoped the new plant will go into production shortly. It was built in an open area between the present whey plant and storage tanks for the lactose processing operation. The old plant will be converted to a warehouse.

The new funnel-shaped main dryer is 20 feet in diameter and almost two stories high. It will hold between 20,000 and 25,000 cubic feet of air at one time. Heated air is forced into it at a tangent, creating a centrifugal or cyclone force.

An atomizer fogs liquid whey at the top of the dryer, and the 300 degree air dries the tiny droplets in an instant.

The centrifugal force drives the partially dried particles of solid whey to the sides of the dryer, where they drop down to a secondary dryer. Air exits through the center of the dryer into a system of cyclone collectors, where some of the remaining whey dust is captured.

Used In Bread

Granules of solid whey reaching the secondary drier contain 12 to 14 per cent moisture. They drop into a vibrating tray and are completely dried by more hot air. The vibrations of the tray 'walk' the granules to a drop-off point where they are funneled to a classifier.

In the classifier course granules are separated and sent to a mill for grinding. After all have been reduced to powder the dried whey is sent to a sifter, then the bagger.

Powdered whey is used in many bakery products and is a standard ingredient in bread. It gives bread the softness many people like, and is largely responsible for the golden brown crust. It is also used in sherbets and other food stuffs.

Ike Was Right In 'Turning Other Cheek'

U. S. Principle of Peace With Honor Expressed Well

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
Washington — It takes moral courage to make the kind of speech President Eisenhower delivered to the American people on Monday night. He might have displayed arrogance and resentment. He might have spoken with bluster. He might have traded insults with Nikita Khrushchev. For, indeed, there has been plenty of provocation, including the latest piece of deliberate sabotage by the Soviets at the Geneva Disarmament conference.

Instead, Mr. Eisenhower chose to "turn the other cheek," as the scriptures teach us. He thereby spoke from strength instead of from weakness, as befits the head of a nation which has the power, the resources and the spirit to defend itself successfully against all enemies. The highlight of the speech was the outline Mr. Eisenhower gave of what he deems to be the proper course for the United States to follow in these troubled times. He said:

"We must accept the risks of bold action with coolness and courage. We must always be strong but we must never forget that peace can never be won by arms alone; we will be fair but never fearful; we will always extend friendship wherever friendship is offered honestly to us."

Expresses American Philosophy

This is a legacy to future presidents. It's a passage that will live in history. For it expresses the American philosophy of peace with honor, and in the first instance, invitations to the heads of foreign governments to come to the United States?

A Vibrating Conveyor is the final collection point for whey granules and dust in Western Condensing company's new plant. The particles fall through the funnel-shaped collectors from the floor above, and are "walked" along the table to the sifter (right foreground). From there they go to the storage bin in the bagging department.

It is fortunate that Mr. Eisenhower candidly discussed this problem, for it is of the very essence of propaganda value on the side of the free world. The president pointed out that, with the exception of "summit" conferences and meetings of NATO heads of government, these visits were not a substitute for diplomatic negotiation and that the United States had never considered them as such. He argued courtesy and never return those visits, or fail to extend, issues or give approval to agreements previously reached through diplomatic channels. Without his saying so explicitly, it was apparent that the latter was the procedure which Mr. Eisenhower would have preferred even for the "summit" conferences.

Another Trip If Necessary
Mr. Eisenhower says that, while he has no present plans for any more trips, "if any unforeseen situation" arose which would convince him that "another journey of mine would still further strengthen the bonds of friendship be-

Racing Count Changed; Driver Pays $20 Fine

A charge of drag racing against Lyle Schultz, 20, of 1811 N. Clark street, was amended to speeding and he was fined $20 in municipal court Tuesday afternoon.

Judge Oscar J. Schmlege revoked Schultz' license for six months but stayed revocation on condition he is not arrested for a moving traffic violation within a year.

Schultz was arrested June 1 in the 1000 block of W. College avenue.

Navy Man's Wife Expected Quads, Has Triplets

Memphis —A—An enlisted man's wife joined the navy by giving birth to triplets instead of the expected quadruplets.

Mrs. Thomas A. Box, wife of a chief aviation technician, last night went into labor prematurely. The first of the triplets — two boys and a girl — was born about midnight.

The Memphis naval hospital's jackpot expectations were chilled earlier by an X-ray taken when the early labor started.

"A film was made to determine the exact position of the babies," said Capt. Fitz J. Weddell. "This film revealed only three fetal skulls."

Weddell said the previous X-ray had shown what was interpreted to be four infants — which would have been a one in a million case.

Mrs. Box, 38, and her 40-year-old husband, already were the parents of four children, ranging in age from 20 years to 20 months.

The navy said Mrs. Box and the three additions to the family were apparently doing well.

Seek Improvements At Pistol Range

Public safety committee-men will ask that $1,140 be taken from the city's contingency fund and transferred to the police fund so the police pistol range can be renovated.

The police department has asked for some improvements because the district shooting match is going to be held here.

Included in the request is $480 for blacktopping the firing stand line, $550 for graveling the parking lot and $110 for lumber for hand rests. The request is being referred to the finance committee.

Ask Ruling On Earnings Of City Funds

Interest Paid to General, Earmarked Account? Jury Asked

City Atty. Don Jury will be asked by the finance committee to rule on distribution of interest earned by city funds.

The committee decided Wednesday to ask Jury's opinion on how interest from earmarked funds must be handled — can it go into the city's general fund, or must it be put into the various fund accounts?

A letter from City Treasurer Ray Feuerstein prompted the request. Feuerstein puts all interest in the general fund, except a $5,000 investment resulting from a specific bequest to the city's welfare department.

Other Action

Semi-monthly payroll vouchers must be given the city's finance committee this summer by umpires for Little and Babe Ruth leagues ball games.

The committee made the stipulation when it approved a $600 donation by the city to defray expenses of umpires. Previously the money was given in a lump sum.

A $28.92 bill for binding his 11 volumes of past city council proceedings for Ald. Homer Malmstrom was denied.

Malmstrom said he asked City Clerk Elden Broehm if he could have his back copies bound, and was told by Broehm to take them to Roemer Printing company for the usual paper binding, at 70 cents each.

But the Roemer firm farmed the job out and the volumes came back with hard covers and gold lettering, at $2.63 each. Malmstrom, in a letter to the committee, said the order was confused in the transfer.

The committee obeyed longevity pay for Rose Milbow, city hall janitress, and a $10 a month raise for Mrs. Barbara Riordan, recreation department secretary, on the completion of one year service.

Hawaii's Governor Could be President On 'Looks Only' Basis

St. Joseph, Mich. —A—Hawaii's Gov. William Quinn could be president of the United States if Mrs. Dotty Wright correctly reads results of her "looks only" poll.

Quinn, a Republican, polled 348 votes in the test which Mrs. Wright conducted among 1,538 citizens from various states asking them to judge photos of 48 governors for qualities of "leadership, integrity, sincerity and dignity."

The photos were sent to her from 48 governors on request. Only the governors of Kansas and Kentucky did not respond.

Other results show Luther Hodges, Democratic governor of North Carolina, in second place with 191 votes; Mark Hatfield, Oregon Republican, was third with 170; Edmund Brown, California Democrat, was next with 168; and Nelson Rockefeller, New York Republican was fifth with 151.

State Teacher To Head NEA

Waukesha Instructor, Clarice Kline, Elected At Convention

Los Angeles —A—Miss Clarice Kline will assume the presidency of the National Education association and its 714,000 members tomorrow, the final day of the NEA's 88th annual convention.

For the next 12 months, Miss Kline will be on leave from her duties as social studies teacher at Waukesha, Wis., High school. She expects to visit all 50 states, as well as Europe, and will log more than 120,000 miles of travel.

She has one sermon she plans to preach wherever she goes:

"The people in this country will get the type of schools they demand. We spend our money — as individuals and as families — on the things we think are important. If scholarship is important to us, we will demand it and we will pay for it.

"Where everything else is more important than scholarship, our schools will fight an uphill battle.

"It's not a question of money alone. The schools will reflect the culture and the training that the parents demand. But one thing is certain — we can't buy quality education at bargain basement prices."

Peach Trees in County Not in Healthy Condition

Oshkosh — Many of the peach trees around the county have not been in a healthy looking condition, County Agent Vernon W. Peroutky observed.

Twisted, odd shaped and reddish colored leaves mean leaf curl, a disease borne as the leaf develops. Crapen or lime sulphur sprayed from the time the green tips first showed and then applied each week thereafter should have done a fair job, he mentioned.

Continued low temperatures kill the trees. Polly, a white fleshed peach, is winter hardy. Other varieties are Sun Gold and Sunapple. He advised spraying with lime sulphur early in the spring when the temperature is 40 degrees and using caption for later sprays.

The county agent suggested planting a new tree every five

No Vice President Choice, Pledge
Complimentary Rep. Byrnes Vote

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Madison — The Wisconsin delegation of thirty leading party politicians will go to the Republican national convention next month without any preconceived plans for the selection of a vice presidential nominee.

The delegation is willingly and legally pledged to the nomination of Vice President Richard Nixon for president, and expects he will get the nomination by acclamation.

Possible Choices
But an informal poll of representatives of the delegation shows a wide range of guesses and preferences for the second spot on the ticket.

Names mentioned include Henry Cabot Lodge, American UN ambassador and former U.S. Senator, Fred S. A. Tamm, U.S. secretary of interior, Sen. Thurston Morton of Kentucky, chairman of the Republican national committee, and Rep. Gerald Ford of Michigan.

There will be a nomination by the Wisconsin delegation of Rep. John W. Byrnes of Green Bay, a 14 year veteran of the Congress and an old friend of the vice president.

But the gesture will be intended as a complimentary one and Byrnes has shown no sign that he is seriously interested in getting on the national ticket.

(His nomination would remove him from the race for reelection in the eighth district and would put the district Republican party in an awkward position. The last date for filing of candidates in Wisconsin is July 13 and the national convention is the week of July 25.)

May Follow Nixon

Chances are that the Wisconsin delegation when the time for making a vice presidential choice comes will follow the cue of Nixon.

Although Nixon has indicated nothing about his preferences, he told Wisconsin Republican leaders on his last visit to the state that he is not convinced the vice presidential nomination—or the geographical origin of the vice presidential nominee—are significant in influencing the votes collected by the ticket, contrary to American political conceptions of tradition.

The Wisconsin delegation was officially completed yesterday with the filing of a list of 30 alternate delegates.

Seasoned Veterans

They were chosen by the Republican state central committee, headed by Everett Yerly of LaCrosse. Doubtless there was some consultation with delegates themselves but in some years both Wisconsin parties have permitted the delegates to choose their own alternates.

The original delegate list, entered without competition in the April primary, was organized by a group of Nixon's friends, including several congressmen, rather than by the vice president himself. The names were cleared with the Republican state voluntary organization. They include some of the seasoned veterans of party organization work, as well as the chief GOP spokesmen among Wisconsin members of the congress and the state legislature, and leaders of the Republican state ticket this year.

In most state party delegations U.S. senators would be included. Sen. Alexander Wiley is the senior Republican officeholder in Wisconsin, but he has never shown an interest in convention affairs and has not yet been a delegate during his long career in Wisconsin public life.

Workers Want Security More Than Fat Paycheck

The size of the paycheck is not as important as many other factors in workers' selection of jobs, declared Clifford E. Jurgansen, noted research and applied psychologist, before the fifth annual industry seminar at the Institute of Paper Chemistry Wednesday.

Jurgansen cited statistical results of his 15-year study on worker motivation in job selection which tended to verify his statement. The study was made from questionnaires completed by 31,000 male and female job applicants and employees.

Security No. 1

Security, Jurgansen said, was by a great margin the most significant factor in workers' choices among jobs. He found that advancement, type of work, co-workers and the company worked for all had more weight than monetary compensation in decisions by workers on the jobs chosen.

In a more philosophical tone, the industrial psychologist bemoaned the strong worker emphasis on security. "It just isn't there," he said. "Employees, particularly through unions are asking for more and more security. They will wake up and find they have not got it."

Jurgansen stated that America was built by people not particularly interested in security and that the present blind desire for it was leading the country to socialism and communism.

Three Motorists Pay For Traffic Violations

Kaukauna — Three motorists pleaded guilty to traffic violations and one bond was accepted Wednesday by Oscar T. Jahns, justice of the peace.

Speeders fined $10 were Mrs. Joan Self, 27, route 2, Appleton, and Richard Lavey, 18, 300 Third street, Menasha. Fined $10 for an illegal muffler was John Rydberg, 18, 946 Adams street, Neenah.

A signed waiver and bond of $14.75 for speeding was accepted from Thomas Anderson, 22, Milwaukee.

41% of City's Kindergarten Got Salk Shots

Everyone Under 40 Urged to Obtain Full Immunization

About 41 per cent of Appleton's kindergarten pupils got the full series of four Salk vaccine polio shots.

A survey was made last year at registration time for classes this year by the city health department.

It also showed 45.5 per cent had three shots, 6 per cent had two, 42 per cent had one and the remainder none.

An accompanying check of the pupils' parents revealed a half to two-thirds of the mothers and a third to a half of the fathers had three or four shots. Dr. Marvin S. Kagen, health commissioner, urged everyone up to 40 to get the full series as soon as possible.

"Summer months are the most notorious for polio," the doctor said, "we do not want to experience a severe epidemic such as hit Appleton in 1955. Immunization is the only safeguard."

Public apathy is the greatest roadblock to full immunization, Dr. Kagen says. Salk vaccine has shown good results, he pointed out, but it won't do anyone any good unless it is taken.

Some of the apathy exists, Dr. Kagen thinks, because of the wonders of Salk vaccine.

"Advances against polio have been so striking that many people look on it as a disease of the past," he noted.

Free Shots
Polio incidence has gone down, and new outbreaks are usually among the non-vaccinated, the commissioner says.

The first two shots in the series should be given two weeks to a month apart, the third seven months later and the fourth a year after that.

Families who are unable to pay for the inoculations may call the health department to arrange for their family physicians to give the vaccine at city expense.

Weyauwega Writer's Effort Hits Screen

Robert Bloch's 'Psycho' Could Have Grisy Gein Affair as Inspiration

BY JINGO
The latest nightmarish effort of Weyauwega's sometime resident author, Robert Bloch, has made its way to the silver screen. Bloch, whose weird stories have won him quite a reputation in some eclectic circles, has been in collaboration with Alfred Hitchcock on a spine-chiller called "Psycho."

Early reviews indicate the collaboration has produced a new high—or low—in their special genre. Janet Leigh, Anthony Perkins, and John Gavin share billings.

In fiction, another author from a small community is always accused of drawing too lifelike portraits of his neighbors and rattling community skeletons. The plot of a Hitchcock movie is always closely guarded, so Weyauwega will have to wait with bated breath to see if it has been filmed.

Jingo

However from what little that has leaked out, it appears Bloch moved a little farther west for his locale—say Plainfield. It can't be certain, but it looks like Ed Gein may have been immortalized on film. Perkins plays a taxidermist, at any rate.

Walt Disney's "Pollyanna" has been released too. What a double bill that would make!

Tennessee Ernie Ford closes an exceptionally fine season tonight on Channel 5. Ol' Ern is loyal to his time spot and doesn't want too much of a drop in the ratings for it, so tonight's show will introduce his successor — "The Wrangler," a western. Not only will he introduce the star, Jason

Convention Days Busy Time for TV

Top Three Networks Compete in Covering Political Sessions

BY CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Radio-TV Writer
New York —(U)— The three television networks are in a giant contest to provide the most complete, fastest and forthcoming political conventions.

ABC, however, seems to be out ahead in offering the most luxurious facilities to its commentators and convention delegates. It plans something called a special room where weary staff members and tired politicians may repair for a revitalizing whiff of oxygen and a rest in vibrating chairs while breathing negatively charged air — whatever that is.

If the networks give us the all-out coverage their plans indicate, it might be better to send out oxygen kits and tanks of negatively charged air for fatigued viewers.

Not Much Influence
Speaking of politics, chairmen of both major parties were among the speakers at a session held by the Academy of TV Arts and Sciences here the other day. They said they do not think TV has public interest in politics, although it has changed campaign techniques.

Poll-taker Elmo Roper, another speaker, said he didn't think TV influenced voting much and that it was just another source for those with political interests.

Republican national chairman Thruston B. Morton warned against the dangers of over-exposure of candidates on TV, particularly on the half-hour interview shows.

Averell Harriman, former governor of New York, however, had some words to say about a panel member of NBC's "Meet the Press."

"Larry Spivak is the best possible foil because he looks like a demon, so that the candidate gets the sympathy of the audience. The tougher he is, the more sympathy."

Appleton Owned Horses Feature Of Oshkosh Show
The fourth annual Oshkosh Horse show Saturday and Sunday will feature exhibitions by two Appleton men.

V. E. Quakenbush, 1305 W. Oakcrest drive, and Melvin Leitzke, 1009 N. Oneida street.

The performances will be held at 1:15 and 7:30 p.m. both days at the Winnebago County fairgrounds at Oshkosh.

Judges are James B. Robertson, Louisville, Ky., for the saddle horse division, and Lester Prior, Council Bluffs, Iowa, for the western horse division. Roger Volker, Esterville, Iowa, is organizer for the show.

Evers, but use his last show for an extended trailer for the horsepower sponsored horse opera.

It hardly seems as though summer has got started, but apparently it's half over. The baseball All-Star games will be played in a few weeks. Channel 5 will telecast both July 11 from Kansas City and July 13 from New York.

Now that we've rushed through half the summer, let's go whole hog and remind you fall is nearly here. Well, maybe not fall exactly, but football anyway. ABC has announced it will carry the Baltimore Colt-College All-Star grid classic from Soldier's field, Chicago, on Aug. 12.

Why stop there? NBC has announced a Dec. 3 show of Christ's works on earth. The wonderful technique developed for using still pictures will be used. The recent "Project 20" use of this technique for "Mark Twain's America" has been entered in four international film festivals in Europe and Canada this summer.

"Adventure Theater" on Channel 2 will encore its best segments for the summer starting next Thursday with "Web of Circumstance" starring Thomas Mitchell.

'Story of Ruth' Movie Triumph

Biblical Tale Beautifully Told, Film for Family

BY DAVID BROOKER
Post-Crescent City Editor

Catholic, Protestant and Jewish leaders all have called "The Story of Ruth" a movie triumph and most viewers will agree with them.

The picture now playing at the Appleton theater is an entertaining and moving portrayal of one of the greatest love stories ever told—the story of the love and affection which develops between a mother and the foreigner who married her son.

Twentieth Century Fox has taken some liberties with the Bible version, principally in filling in the many holes in the story left untold in the Old Testament. But the additions are carefully designed to provide believable answers to the many unanswered questions about Ruth, Naomi and the world in which they lived.

The gaps in the life stories of the principal characters have been plugged without losing the basic plot of the Book of Ruth and is done with such skill that the penetrating lesson in tolerance comes through to prick the conscience of the viewer.

No Spectacle
Unlike most Biblical stories, this one steers clear of the massive bigness which so often overwhelms the audience. Refreshingly, this is no spectacle. It entertains, but does not tire.

Elana Eden, a native of Israel, plays the title role. Peggy Wood does an outstanding job as Naomi, tender as a mother should be at times, hard when she needs to be, always understanding and not above pulling a trick or two on those who would harm those she loves.

Among the outstanding supporting jobs are those of Thayer David as Hedak the high priest; Tom Tryon as Mahlon, Naomi's son who marries Ruth; and Stuart Whitman, as Boaz, whose field the widows glean.

"The Story of Ruth" is among the best of the many Biblical stories brought to the screen — suitable for the entire family.

The village is located at the junctions of Highways 47 and 55, one mile north of Keshena.

$600,000 Set For Winnebago Airport Needs

Improvements to Include Runway, Control Tower

Post-Press Times Bureau

Madison — A federal aid agreement for the financing of a $600,000 improvement program at the Winnebago county airport at Oshkosh was announced today by the state department of aeronautics.

The money will be used for the expansion of one of four existing runways to provide a 5,200-foot instrument landing runway and construction of a control tower.

Outagamie county has an application for airport aid awaiting further action by the department. The county board, however, has ordered a survey to determine whether to expand or abandon the present facilities.

T. K. Jordan, director of the state agency, said the improvements will be begun this year for use next spring, making the Oshkosh field comparable to the trunk airports in other larger communities of Wisconsin. The plan is intended to permit operations at a ceiling of 200 feet and visibility of a half mile, and lower ultimately.

Cost Split
The department also announced federal aid agreements on the basis of 50 percent participation by the state and localities for a $240,000 budget to build a cross runway of 3,350 feet at the Manitowish municipal airport and a $376,000 program for improvements at the Brown county airport in Green Bay.

The Green Bay program provides for reimbursement of land costs for the recent construction of an instrument runway, the lighting of the runway and the construction of new taxiways.

Share Price Trend Spotty

Fractional Gains And Losses on New York Market

New York — The stock market presented a spotty picture, with prices mixed early this afternoon.

Gains and losses of fractions to a point prevailed among most pivotal issues. A few specially situated stocks made wider moves.

As Bethlehem joined other steel companies in plans to close many of their operations over the July 4 weekend, steels were mixed, holding steady after sharp declines early this week.

The approach of the holiday weekend, which usually marks a turning point in stock trading, created a mood of uncertainty.

Big Three autos showed a slightly lower tendency. Oils were off, paced by a drop of more than a point for Texaco which reacted to the takeover of its Cuban refinery by the Castro government.

Rails were up a bit as merger talk continued.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 1.55 at 639.94.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .20 to 221.80 with the industrials unchanged, the rails up .50 and the utilities up .10.

Corporate bonds advanced. Governments were unchanged to a shade lower.

Milwaukee Livestock

Milwaukee — Estimated hog receipts 800; steady; bulk of butchers 200-220 lbs. 17.25-75; top 18.50; bulk of sows 300-500 lbs. 13.50-15.25; stags 11.00-12.00; boars 9.00-10.00.

Cattle estimated receipts 800; Wednesday's cow market steady; canners and cutters 13.00-16.00; utilities 16.00-17.00; dairy bred heifers, utility to commercial 17.00-19.00; bull market steady; commercial 20.00-21.00; fed cattle steady; good to choice heifers 20.50-24.50; good to choice steers 21.50-25.50.

Calves estimated receipts 500; Wednesday's market steady; good to choice 26.00-30.00; top 31.00; standard grades 24.00-26.00; cull to utilities 18.00-24.00.

Sheep, lambs estimated receipts 100; Wednesday's market steady; spring lambs 19.50-21.50; good to choice old

Map shows how Winnebago County Airport is located.

Scattered Showers and Thunderstorms are forecast tonight from the western portion of the Ohio valley to portions of the upper and middle Mississippi valley and over the central plains. Some scattered thunderstorms also are expected in the southern part of the middle Atlantic states. It will be cooler from the lakes region east to the north Atlantic states.

Youngsters Use Large Slingshot; Windows Suffer

Oshkosh — Two Appleton youths, ages 15 and 11, were ordered to pay for damages done to windows after they fashioned a giant slingshot of a 4-foot strip of innertube and stretched it between a light pole and a tree.

Winnebago county authorities reported the youngsters were shooting marbles at the windows of the Fox River Tool company on County Trunk P in the town of Menasha Wednesday morning.

They said the marbles traveled over 100 feet and chipped cement blocks on the factory building.

Washington — Rep. John W. Byrnes, Green Bay, said today he feared congress might be dominated by politics, if it returns to Washington Aug. 8, little over a week after the Republican national convention.

He said more legislation could be passed objectively if the excitement of the two national conventions was allowed to die down, and congress was called back later in August.

Outlook for Big Weekend Not Too Rosy

Skies cleared Wednesday after thundershowers and wind Tuesday evening. A brisk wind blew puffy clouds across a clear sky. The temperature hit 83 in the Fox Cities.

Temperature at 11 a.m. today was 70. Clouds are expected to push into the state and bring showers for the first day of the long holiday weekend Saturday.

Thundershowers dampened a wide stretch of the country from the northern Rockies to the eastern seaboard today. Severe weather again broke out in scattered sections.

The shower area represented a front line where cool air rolling out of the north clashed with warm, humid weather which has had much of the plains and midwest in a sweat.

The wet pattern extended in a band from the northern Rockies into the central plains, the middle Mississippi valley, eastern Ohio valley, into the central Atlantic coast states and northward.

Damaging winds, heavy rain and hail hit portions of Kansas, Nebraska and Missouri during the night.

The southwest Nebraska area around Kimball was thrashed by hailstones the size of baseballs. Windows were smashed, cars were dented and many wheat farmers reported crops were flattened.

Winds in excess of 90 miles an hour howled across central Nebraska during a severe thunderstorm. Hardest hit were the areas around north Platte and Kearney, Hall accompanying the storm battered wheat and alfalfa and stripped corn fields.

Moscow Students Show No Respect For Foreigners

Russians Ridicule, Snob Racial Groups at University

BY WILLIAM L. RYAN
Associated Press News Analyst

New York—Moscow university today is training the young people who will guide Soviet destinies a generation hence. It is producing what, to many Westerners, appears to be a generation of snobs.

This applies to the students of Great Russian nationality, from the huge central Soviet state whose Russians dominate the 15-republic Soviet Union.

Often, say foreign graduate students studying in Moscow under Exchange programs, there is more than a little racial arrogance among Russian students.

The incident occurred some months ago at a university dance. Foreign students tell it this way:

The Negro wanted to dance with a Shite (small white) Russian girl. She refused him so later he tried to cut in while she danced with a

Fourth of Series

Russian student. The Russian challenged the Negro to meet him outside. The Negro was waylaid by a group of Russian students and the beating landed him in a hospital.

Plan New University

The incident may have been more of a student brawl than racial antagonism. But it affected other foreign students' attitude toward the new "People's Friendship University" announced by Nikita S. Khrushchev.

This school, scheduled to open in the fall, is to be for African, Asian and Latin American students up to the age of 35. Free tuition and dormitories, living allowances and free travel to and from Moscow will be offered. Plans are to open with an enrollment of 500, to be expanded to 5,000 in three years.

The school will be entirely separate from Moscow university's student body, with separate faculties and separate facilities. It is arousing some resentment among foreign students who say they feel it will be a means of isolating them from the Russian students. Already some are calling it "apartheid university."

About 1,500 foreign students are studying in Moscow with the great majority from Asia and the Middle East and about 120 from Black Africa. The Soviet student body numbers 14,000, including 5,000 at the university's downtown branch.

The Russian students consider themselves a privileged class. They must be financially privileged to afford this state-run university. The living allowance for a Russian student in the first year is only 250 rubles monthly ($25 at the tourist rate). A student cannot live on that so since working one's way through school is virtually unknown, he must get money from home.

The system appears to have produced a social group dedicated to the status quo—keeping things as they are. There seems to be little political restlessness among university students. Lives and activities are fairly well controlled by the Komsomols (Young Communist League).

The attitudes of Russian students have produced adverse reactions from students from underdeveloped countries, where communism is anxious to make a good impression. One graduate American student observed that Moscow university will be sending back to that area many a confirmed young anti-Communist.

Surrender Individuality

An Egyptian is dismayed at the straitjacketed minds of the Russians. He looks on the students as young people wearing blinders, unwilling to look at outside ideas and satisfied to surrender individuality to the state.

Students from Asia, coming from families accustomed to high living standards, are shocked at the low level they have noted in the U. S. S. R. Some resent Russian attempts to use them for political purposes, to endorse this or that slogan for propaganda. Others resent the obvious aim of the "People's Friendship University"—indoctrination of young people from underdeveloped areas.

Western students in Moscow say it is practically impossible to penetrate the minds of most of the Russian students. They have been indoctrinated in Soviet dogma since childhood and are accustomed to the rigid disciplines of life in a communist society.

Some indications show that educated young Russians resent the more obvious crudities of Premier Khrushchev. Like many an average Russian, the students, too, pin their hopes for a prosperous future to better relations with the United States. Khrushchev's blasts at President Eisenhower have had little discernible effect upon the friendly attitude of the students toward Americans.

The students display a lively interest in one phase of life abroad: the West's living standards. They express eagerness for the day when they will be able to travel independently and see it for themselves. It seems highly likely they harbor some resentment against the regime for its travel restrictions. Tomorrow. The Changes Since Stalin
